Favorable Tide Conditions
Fix Flo's Swim Target Time

Target day for Florence Chadwick's attempt to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca has now been definitely set for August 9.

Florence Chadwick's Day

Hi! Just let Archie McKinnon get tough with me in my practise swims. Just let him. I'll really give him an earful.

If Archie accuses me of slowing down in a practise dip, I'll just say to him, "Listen here, bush-leaguer, who'd you ever strike out?"

Yep, I finally put one over on Arch at the ball park last night and don't think I won't rub it in. Archie, Jack Todd, Fred Manning, Stu Keate and myself were guests at Athletic Park in British Empire Games Night.

They had a crazy, mixed-up ball game between the Victoria Tyee baseball team and the Victoria Shamrock lacrosse team.

Then we came on and Abner Doubleday must have spun in his grave. Archie was on the mound, trying to throw fastballs to his catcher, Todd. Fred Manning (the blind Tom) was umpire, and "Shufflin" Stu Keate was in the outfield. Jack and Stu both forgot to bring their gloves so they used laundry baskets instead.

Archie wound up like a man with a spider down his back. He threw the ball, I shut my eyes and swung with all my might and darned if I didn't hit it. By the time Stu got the ball, I was standing on first base with a triple. But they all cheated and said that I was out for running to third base first, to second base second and to first base third.

I'll stick to swimming. There are no bases to touch in a channel.

Demand Rejected

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The full UN trusteeship council Thursday overwhelmingly rejected Russian and Indian demands for a halt on super-bomb tests in the Pacific island areas under U.S. administration.

KEEP CALM, COOL AND CUCUMBERS

Quigg's Quick Remedy For Hot-and-Bothered

The writer of the following advice got tired of the usual rules on how to behave in hot weather and decided to put forward some new ones—just in case we get any summer, this is.

By H. D. QUIGG
UP Staff Correspondent

How to beat the heat—10 easy steps you may want to think about.

1. Dress correctly. Wear a diaper. Mahatma Gandhi had the right idea. Any baby will tell you.

2. Work correctly. Knock off at noon. If your boss objects, gag him with your diaper.

3. Be calm. Anger begets heat. Calm breeds coolth. Consider the ways of the cool cucumber. Did you ever see a cucumber mad at anybody? No. Not even when pickled.

4. Be resourceful. Get your mind off the heat. Join a nudist camp.

5. Eat properly. Meat, cheese, and eggs produce heat. For that matter, so do fruits, vegetables, salads, licorice sticks and popcorn balls. So stop eating. You're probably overweight anyway.

6. Drink properly. Get plenty to drink over long periods in a good bar. If you stay long enough, the air conditioning will solve your heat problem and the bartender will solve your others.

7. Be masterful. Brew a big pot of tea piping hot, wrap up in a blanket with your feet in a bucket of hot water, and sip the tea while murmuring over and over: "Mind over matter, I don't feel a bit hot." Pretty soon you won't. You won't even feel.

8. Be clever. Buy an old Jenny airplane. Tie it down in an open field. Buy several 300-pound cakes of ice and stack them behind it. Start the propeller whirling, and take the family on a picnic in the cool breeze, which also discourages flying bugs and crawling beetles.

9. Are some liquids more thirst quenching than others? Yes.

10. Shut up. Talks creates hot air. You talk too much anyway.

WHEAT PRICE OF $1.40 ANNOUNCED BY OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—The government today set the initial price of wheat as $1.40 a bushel, the same as for the last three years.

Initial prices for oats and barley are also unchanged. Payment for oats will be 65 cents a bushel and for barley 95 cents a bushel.

The $1.40 wheat price is that for No. 1 northern at the Lakehead or Vancouver.

Initial payments for other grades of wheat, oats and barley will be announced by the Canadian Wheat Board after the start of the new crop year.

Red Demands Dampen Monday Peace Hopes

Mendes-France Seeks Help to Settle Indo-China Cease-Fire by Deadline

LONDON (AP)—The Red China radio said today "an honorable peace acceptable to both sides is within sight" in Indo-China.

The Peiping broadcast was the most optimistic yet in Red China's description of state of negotiations at Geneva.

GENEVA (UP)—Prospects for an end to the Indo-China war by Monday nose-dived today because of Russia's unbudging stand on terms that fell far short of the West's hope of peace with honor.

France called on Britain for help in breaking down the Soviet refusal to compromise.

Only four days remained before French Premier Mendes-France's deadline of a cease-fire or his resignation.

The Soviet price for peace was immediate surrender of two-thirds of a partitioned Viet Nam and almost certainly the loss of the entire war-ravaged country within six months.

STILL HOPEFUL

The French remained hopeful, though Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov refused to give any ground in arguments with Mendes-France that lasted until the early hours this morning.

Mendes-France called in British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to help in his last dramatic duels with the Reds for an acceptable settlement.

The two statesmen conferred privately to line up their own positions and then met Molotov at the British delegation villa.

Molotov, meanwhile, was reported to have consulted with Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai to make the Communist position even firmer.

YMC Camp's 'Lost' Boy Turns Up

Slept 'Night In Hollow Log

A hollow log was "home" to 10-year-old Charles J. YMC's camp Thursday night.

And, while Charles slept peacefully, worried senior campers, camp director Clayton Cameron, RCMP constables and a trained RCMP search-dog combed a wide area searching for him.

At 11:30 a.m., 40 South Vancouver Island Rangers were ready to start a controlled search for the boy.

But shortly after, he walked out of the logged-off, second-growth area where he had gone missing—heading straight for the cook-house.

Charles was with a small party planning an overnight "sleep-out" about a half-mile from the main camp. Around dusk he was playing tag when he lost his sense of direction.

"I couldn't see the campfire or hear the other boys," he said. "I walked for awhile, then I got tired, and crawled into a hollow log and went to sleep."

A second camper, Ronald Gould, 12, of 2003 Cameron Street, also was found safe and sound this morning after going missing Thursday night.

He camped out in his sleeping bag on a hillside close to the main camp.

10,000 French In Offensive To Save Hanoi

HANOI, Indo-China (Reuters)—Ten thousand French Union troops backed by tanks launched two drives north of Hanoi Thursday to push back Viet Minh regular troops which had infiltrated into the Red River delta and were menacing the city.

Heavy fighting took place and was continuing today, the French high command announced.

At the same time, delta commander Gen. Rene Cogny said 60,000 rebel troops had infiltrated his Hanoi-Haiphong salient and another 60,000 surrounded it.

'FELT VERY EXCITED AND NIGHT-BEFORE-CHRISTMASSY ...'

N.Z. Girl's Diary Describes Events Leading to Mother's Murder

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP)—A 16-year-old Pauline Parker, accused of murdering her mother, had detailed the plans for the killing in her diary with the notation "we are both thrilled with the idea."

"Why couldn't mother die? Thousands are dying daily so why not mother?" the diary said, the court was told. A later entry noted: "Naturally we feel a trifle nervous but the pleasure of anticipation is very great."

The Parker girl and her close companion, Juliet Hulme, also 16, were ordered to be tried on a charge of murdering Mrs. Honora Mary Parker, Pauline's mother, who had been beaten to death in a park last June 22 with a brick wrapped in a lady's stocking.

Today's court session was a preliminary hearing in the magistrate's court at Christchurch. The two girls exchanged smiles and whispers during the hearing and scribbled on pieces of paper.

The Hulme girl is the daughter of Dr. J. R. Hulme, wartime British director of naval operational research.

Witnesses described the girls wrote unpublished novels and as inseparable companions who operated together and who planned to go to the United States to have some of their works published.

Herbert Reiper, who told the court that he had lived as man and wife with the late Mrs. Parker for the last 23 years and was the father of her three children, said the parents of both girls had been worried by their intense friendship and sought to separate the two.

The court was told that the Parker girl in her diary had listed her mother as "one of the main obstacles in my path. If she were to die ... That entry was dead April 28.

Then on June 21, court was told, the girl's diary said: "We have decided to use a rock in a stocking rather than a sandbag. We discussed the matter fully. The happy event is to take place tomorrow afternoon."

"The next time I write in my diary mother will be dead."

"How odd, yet how pleasing?" Then on June 22, the court was told, the entry read:

"Day of a happy event. Felt very excited and 'night-before-Christmas' last night. Didn't have pleasant dreams though."

$750,000 Damage Second Big Blaze Hits Royal City

MRS. R. BIGELOW

MRS. H. H. POOLE

2 Crossworders Get Correct Solutions

Two Victoria women submitted correct solutions this week to the Times weekly crossword, but because of the rules their prize money is different.

Winners are: Mrs. R. Bigelow, 2147 Oak Bay Avenue, and Mrs. H. H. Poole, 1498 Fairfield.

The total prize was $25, plus a bonus of $150 for a regular subscriber.

The general prize is split $12.50 each to the two winners, but the bonus of $150 goes to Mrs. Bigelow who is a regular subscriber by carrier.

She receives a total of $162.50. Mrs. Poole, who buys the paper individually, but does not subscribe, receives $12.50.

Mrs. Bigelow was roused from bed this morning to be told she had won the prize. She had been to the zany ball game for BEG night. Her husband said he's ordering a box of choice cigars right away.

Mrs. Hughes said, "I rolled over and died, luckily for me. I don't know how to reload the gun."

Mrs. Poole was thrilled to have come up with a winning solution. She has also been doing the puzzles a long time, and it was unfortunate that the rules prevented her from sharing in the bonus.

Business Centre Scarred; One Fireman Injured

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A three-alarm fire today swept through the Army and Navy department store here, damaging four adjoining stores when walls crumbled and causing a loss estimated at $750,000.

The fire was in the centre of the downtown area on Columbia Street, four blocks from the scene of a $1,000,000 fire May 6 which destroyed the Swan Wright Building containing eight firms and radio station CKNW.

One fireman was injured, and several others had narrow escapes as the fire-blackened walls of the Army and Navy store crashed and giant windows exploded into the street.

Damage to the Army and Navy building was estimated at $500,000. The other stores suffered loss of $250,000.

Fire chief Claude Highsted said the fire started on the top floor of the four-story Army and Navy store. From there it swept down an elevator shaft.

WALLS CRASH

A jewelry shop, cafe, dress shop and a meat market all were damaged when the walls of the store crashed.

Floors of a hardware store near the big department store were flooded.

Fireman Jack Fulton was trapped on the roof of the jewelry store, knocked down by flying bricks. He suffered ankle injuries.

Warned by fire captain Archie Mossell, eight other firemen escaped the flying debris.

"If it hadn't been for Capt. Mossell, we all would have been dead men," said fireman Norman Yule.

A warning from Chief Highsted saved R. C. Grant, owner of the jewelry store, and watches, jewelry and diamonds were spewed into the street and carried away in a flood of water.

The fire, starting at 3:30 a.m., raged for four hours, as scores of firemen and civilian defense workers battled to control the flames.

Danube Floods Leave 10 Dead; 118 Bridges Out

VIENNA, Austria (UP) — Floodwaters receded from the Danube River valley of Austria today leaving death and destruction in their mud and slime-covered wake.

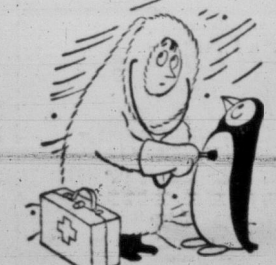

The death toll stood at 10. Two persons were missing.

Preliminary estimates of the damage caused in lower Austria province showed more than 3,000 buildings had been inundated, 90 destroyed and 1,800 evacuated. Nearly 8,500 persons were forced to flee their homes before the rampaging floodwaters.

The surging river battered gaping holes in 26 dams and destroyed or damaged a total of 118 bridges. Nearly 2,000 cattle were lost while destruction to wild life was described by authorities as "catastrophic."

Officials reported the "worst is over" at Hainburg. In Russian-occupied zone about 25 miles east of here where a dam burst last night, Hainburg and two other villages were evacuated as the floodwaters poured down.

Kit Tip

EVEN BEFORE the turn of the century, polar and other explorers found that boxes of light, non-rusting aluminum gave their precious first-aid equipment more protection from rough usage and rough weather.

Manufacturers took the tip. Today, especially in factories where industrial processes create humid or corrosive conditions, aluminum boxes are used to keep first-aid kits in good shape.

In fact, aluminum is now popular for boxes to hold everything from tools to trout flies. And for countless other containers that must stay clean, bright, free from rust. Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. (Alcan).

He subsequently established a tobacco shop at the corner of Yates and Government. The corner eventually became known as Salmon's corner.

He retired at 56 due to ill-health but found new life from working in his garden.

Mr. Salmon is the oldest member of B.C.'s oldest synagogue, the Temple Emmanuel, and is a former president of the Jewish community here.

Westcoast Asks Re-Hearing on Gas Decision

Charges U.S. Ruling Contravenes Gas Act

WASHINGTON (AP)—Westcoast Transmission Company said today the U.S. Federal Power Commission decision rejecting its application to deliver natural gas to Pacific Northwest states was "arbitrary, capricious and contrary to the Natural Gas Act and the commission's prior decisions."

The allegation was one of several contained in a brief prepared for filing today, in which the company sought a re-hearing and stay of the decision by which the commission granted Pacific Northwest Pipeline Corp. authority to build a 1,400-mile pipeline from New Mexico and Colorado to Washington and Oregon.

Both Westcoast and Pacific, along with Trans-Northwest Gas Co. and Northwest Natural Gas Co. seek the northwest market. All but Pacific would obtain gas from Canadian fields.

IGNORED RESERVES

Westcoast's brief charged that the commission decision did not discuss or even refer to the natural gas reserves available to the Westcoast project and the deliverability of those reserves.

The commission has 30 days in which to act on the Westcoast request. Failure to act is the same as rejection.

Westcoast officials previously have announced that, unless the commission accepts the motion, they will file an appeal in the Third Circuit Court of Appeals at Philadelphia.

Historic School Now Rosedale Hall

An historic school building became Rosedale Memorial Hall Thursday night, when a plaque honoring former students who served in two wars was unveiled at Rosedale Park, near Strawberry Vale School.

The unveiling was done by Mrs. R. G. Smith, five of whose six sons served in the armed forces, and whose eight children all attend Strawberry Vale School.

The building, erected in 1892 as an annex to the school, has been completely renovated and will be used by Colquitz Playgroup during the winter and Rosedale Playgroup in summer. It was moved to its new location adjacent to the park by courtesy of the school board.

Mrs. Frank Russell, president of Rosedale Playgroup committee, opened the program, which included a fancy dress parade for children, entertainment and refreshments.

Plaque was dedicated by Rev. E. J. Staley, of Wilkenson Road United Church. Philip Dye, Strawberry Vale PTA president, officiated.

Humphrey Golby, vice-chairman of Greater Victoria School Board, compared the pioneering spirit which erected the building at a cost of $800 and voluntary effort, with the community spirit shown by the three groups who made the hall a reality.

Others who took part in the ceremony were Mrs. W. W. McGill, Saanich school board trustee.

Beer Waiters' Strike in Alberta Ends on 84th Day

CALGARY, Alta. (BUP) — Beer drinkers could enter city pubs today without braving the glare of pickets for the first time in 84 days.

The withdrawal of pickets from two hotels Thursday marked the official end of a waiters' strike, union officials said Thursday. Most hotels hired back their staffs in a group, but some retained a few non-union workers.

1,000 North Van CMH Tenants Ordered to Evacuate Homes

KILROY? NO-FLO

Last night it was baseball. Tonight it's box lacrosse.

Flo Chadwick has become the whirlwind of the sports arenas.

Guest of honor at British Empire Games Night at Athletic Park, Thursday, preceding the WIL contest between Wenatchee Chiefs and Victoria Tyees, Miss Chadwick tonight will make a personal appearance at the Intercity Lacrosse League game between New Westminster Royals and Victoria Shamrocks.

Plans call for Miss Chadwick to face off the first ball. However, if her arrival is delayed because of previous commitments at the opening of the Showboat, she will face off the ball to start the second period.

The game tonight at Memorial Arena starts at 8.30.

Granville Span Open.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Traffic flowed uninterrupted over the main approaches to the Granville Street bridge today as the barriers were removed from the cloverleaf entrances to the new span.

NORTH VANCOUVER (BUP)—Some 1,000 residents will have to evacuate their homes here by Dec. 31, 1955, because the dwellings don't meet the standards required under city and district building by-laws.

A gathering of tenants of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation received the information last night. A total of 285 homes will be affected.

The houses, all built for war-time emergency, fail to meet by-law standards, and even if the dwellings were sold, they could not be relocated in the community.

Under the agreement between the municipalities and the CMHC all the land where the homes are located must be cleared and given back to the municipalities for industrial purposes.

Residents of the homes began an immediate struggle to keep the land.

Mr. Banks' right to live in Canada, C. E. S. Smith, director of immigration, said Thursday night.

His appeal against a deportation order issued by the immigration department has been allowed, permitting him to stay in Canada.

Mr. Banks was questioned several times during the session of Parliament that ended last month on the grounds he had a court record in the United States before he came to this country.

OR IN EVENT OF EMERGENCY

Scottish, Seaforths One Unit in War

Victoria's Canadian Scottish Regiment (Princess Mary's) and the Seaforth Highlanders of Canada of Vancouver would combine into a single unit to speed mobilization in the event of a war emergency.

This procedure is included in the sweeping Canadian Army Militia changes, announced last week, Vancouver's B.C. Area headquarters reports. A similar union would be established between the Westminster Regiment and the Rocky Mountain Rangers at Kamloops.

Decision on names to be given the fused infantry regiments will not be made until the necessary, army officers reported.

This system of linking militia infantry battalions would extend all across the country to put Canada in a better position to meet an enemy threat. In some areas three infantry regiments will be joined should the circumstances demand it.

OTTAWA (CP)—Harold C. Banks, Canadian director of the Seaforths' International Union (AFL-TLC), can remain in Canada.

Report on Bread Strike Expected Today

VANCOUVER (BUP)—Mayor Fred Hume was expected to report today on his mediation efforts in an eight-day-old bread strike and lockout affecting all major bakeries here. The mayor met yesterday with officials of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union but refused to comment on the talks until he had conferred with bakery operators. The strike-lockout cut off the bulk of the bread supply for 500,000 persons.

Padlocks in Quebec

FOR REASONS KNOWN ONLY to himself, Mr. Duplessis has ceased, for the time being anyway, to prosecute the Jehovah Witnesses. The Quebec Government is now equipped with the sharp teeth of the new Freedom of Worship Act, under which it takes power to infringe the freedoms of speech, press and assembly. But having got the power he wanted, Mr. Duplessis is not presently using it.

As a result, the vital issues of law and morals thus raised have not entered the courts, where they can be tested. The exclusive and proper powers of the national Parliament and Government in the whole field of civil liberties have been challenged by a provincial statute but both Quebec City and Ottawa apparently prefer to let this sleeping dog lie for the time being. In due time it will awake and Canada will have to decide where final power over the individual lies, either in the provincial legislature or in the nation.

Meanwhile the philosophy of the Duplessis Government is soon to be tested in another parallel case before the Supreme Court, the tribunal of last appeal. This case will be one of the most important ever tried there.

In 1937 the Duplessis Government persuaded the Quebec Legislature to pass the Padlock Law. Under it, the provincial attorney-general can close and padlock any premises for a year, and seize any printed material found therein, if he suspects that they are owned or rented by communists. The suspected communist has no means of appeal. He cannot take his case to the courts. The attorney-general is, in fact, the court and his word is final.

In defense of this law it is said that communists are entitled to no sympathy nor hence to legal protection. Under federal law that is not so. Communism is not illegal in Canada. Communists enjoy—so long as they break no law—the same protection as anybody else and can run for public office.

Leaving that point aside for the moment, the possible abuses of the Padlock Law are obvious, when the attorney-general of Quebec can decide alone and for himself whether a man may be a communist and should have his house padlocked. No such decision should ever be entrusted to any authority but the courts and the due process of law. Otherwise no one is safe.

After long delay, due to various legal technicalities, the Padlock Law will come before the Supreme Court in the autumn. Then the Court must decide whether it is constitutional or not.

The Quebec courts have upheld it. The provincial Appeal Court's decision was opposed by only one of five judges, Mr. Justice Gregor Barclay, whose dissenting judgment makes interesting reading.

He holds, in brief, that no provincial Legislature can repeal the civil liberties of Canadians, that these matters are exclusively under the control of the national Parliament which has not declared communism illegal.

"What the Dominion Government permits," he says, "the provinces cannot deny and punish." Again: "No court has the power to condemn and punish a person unheard." And finally Mr. Justice Barclay observes that the Quebec Government punishes suspected communists without even defining communism.

This judgment presents the issue soon to be argued before the Supreme Court. It is not whether communism is desirable or undesirable. It is not even whether communism is legal or illegal in Canada, since it is certainly legal, at present, under national law. It is only whether a provincial Legislature can invade this field of jurisdiction and infringe the basic rights of the individual.

Although the legal merits of a lawsuit cannot properly be discussed while it is sub judice, it is quite clear that if the Supreme Court upholds the Padlock Law for reasons of law—the only reasons that concern it—then the Canadian Parliament will be compelled to re-consider its whole position in this important field. It will have to assert its sole authority over civil liberties by constitutional amendment or otherwise.

Rebellion at the Closed Door

IN TORONTO THIS WEEK TWO controllers walked out of a meeting called by the mayor when the chief magistrate refused admission to the press.

One of the commissioners objected to the mayor's attempt to establish a "benevolent autocracy." The other said he was prepared to engage in public business only when it was conducted in public.

At this distance, the full details of the dispute cannot be determined, but the principle is plain. At least two members of the Toronto administration recognize the necessity of keeping the public informed by letting it know, through the news columns, what is being done with its own business.

The problem of civic meetings behind closed doors is familiar to Victorians. This year, apparently reversing the policy on which he was originally elected, the mayor has turned his back on the principle of open meetings with a secrecy by-law which has already done much to destroy confidence in his regime.

Barring the press can have only that result. When business is done under cover it almost invariably invites suspicion. The public wants to know what a group is discussing in whispers that it is afraid to debate out loud.

There are, of course, certain occasions on which council deliberations—or those of any other administrative body—are confidential. But secrecy in discussion of public business should be applied sparingly. If it is used as a general principle—if it is a process laid down in by-law form with arbitrary authority granted one or two officials to withhold information from the public—it works serious harm in relations between the people and those they elected.

That should be becoming clear to the city council of Victoria. It is presumably one of the reasons for the action taken by the two commissioners in Toronto.

No Help to Local Theatre

FROM NEW YORK COMES A Canadian Press report that the Actors Equity Association and the Canadian Council of Authors and Artists plan to organize the legitimate theatre in this country.

The effort will be directed toward the establishment of a separate working union of stage actors that will seek standard contracts, wages and working conditions in the Canadian theatre.

The announcement is interesting but academic only in Victoria.

During recent years this city has been the home of two stock companies. Each has gone broke. In neither case did the performers or professional personnel receive an income that could be considered a wage. Both struggled along, winning warm commendation from those who supported them and favorable treatment from the press. Eventually the compelling need to make enough to eat lowered the curtain on the actors as a Victoria group.

The establishment of an actors' union at this time offers little promise for the revival of professional legitimate theatre here. A box office which did not provide the pitance members of our former companies sought can scarcely be expected to meet a salary scale established by a union.

Four Cents a Bite

OUR COASTAL SUMMER SO far—until the vagrant sun returned home late, in mid-July—has hardly lived up to expectations and the advance billing of the tourist bureau. But if we have been cheated of sunshine we have escaped certain miseries now afflicting some other parts of Canada. For example, the ravenous mosquitoes of Winnipeg.

According to the reliable Winnipeg Free Press, (putting the truth above its civic pride) the mosquitoes of the Red River Valley have lately broken all records for appetite and industry. The Free Press uses the word "torture" to describe the plight of Winnipeg's itchy population.

However, it has a ray of comfort to offer. Four cents, it says, will not buy much now-a-days but, collected from every inhabitant of Winnipeg, it will pay for total war against the mosquitoes.

So the civic authorities of that badly-bitten metropolis are trying to collect the four cents—rather late in the season. We shall await with neighborly interest the latest news from the invasion front.

It will take more than four cents to make our coastal sun behave but at least it does not sting. Why, it hardly burns these days.

Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow

Chips

BY DAVID BROCK

IN a collection of letters recently published, Freud says that money brings us little happiness. This is because happiness depends mostly on the fulfillment of your childhood's ambitions, and money is unreal to a child.

This is balderdash of the most piffing sort. Money and fun and happiness and philosophy are often miles apart, it is true. But for the following reasons: if you inherit money you are very apt to be spoiled or else too seriously educated.

and in either event you haven't the sort of imagination that goes with fun, happiness, and quiet enjoyment. And if you made your pile yourself, you are apt to have acquired restless habits along with the money.

But these things don't invariably happen. I know lots of blokes who are well off and yet manage to support with a manly grin the misery of sailing their own boats and riding their own horses. With scarcely a shudder they swallow their rare old Burgundy, chew their costly cigars, obey their fatherly chefs, collect their priceless books and paintings, and endure the privacy so sternly forced upon them by their acres of land.

AND this mention of boats and horses and things suggests the biggest fallacy in Freud's argument. It is the ambition of almost every child to own a horse and a boat and so on. He will need money to fulfil that ambition. And not only that, but he knows it from the start.

Another fallacy, an opposite one, is the implication that any childhood ambition is worth fulfilling and will bring you happiness! Just imagine what would happen to your peace of mind if Fate permitted you to marry all your boyhood sweethearts and keep them in one enormous harem of a harem. Picture to yourself the alleged delights of a larder filled entirely with toffee, ice cream, frankfurters, pickles, cake, and carbonated waters treated with glucose and dyestuffs. Reflect, next time you feel like a short burst of reflection, upon the lifelong joys of a career devoted to beating up your poor old school teachers.

CHILDHOOD ambition, is it? Good heavens, most children spend a great deal of their time planning a spectacular suicide that will make their friends and relations repent when it is too late. How many kids would be made truly happy by fulfilling that ambition in their maturity?

Each time I read about the late Dr. Freud, I start wondering who were his friends and patients. This is not my own brilliant little searchlight turned for the first time upon the Master. H. G. Wells switched on a similar light quite a few years ago; he said that it was wrong of Freud to imagine that a contented English gentleman was exactly the same as a spoiled Viennese brat brought to Dr. Freud by a credulous and hysterical Viennese mother. . . or words to this effect, for I've not got the passage here for reference. Cyril Connolly was mentioning much the same objection last month in The Sunday Times, and pretending Wells hadn't drawn the matter to his attention. Still, the thought must have occurred to quite a few people (though not enough, as yet) that Freud was going round with the wrong bunch.

TAKE YOUR PICK

TALKING of the alleged unhappiness of being able to buy what you want, I have often noticed that the chaps who sneer at the well-to-do for being miserable are very apt to sneer at them all for being half-witted as well. They have a theory that you can't make money without being feeble-minded. The truth is, of course, that there are quite as many types among the affluent as there are anywhere else. But suppose, for the purpose of argument, that the charge of being half-witted could be proved by the fact that a man had money in the bank. This need not prove that he is also unhappy. For the greatest chance of being happy, in a world like this, is surely to be as half-witted as possible.

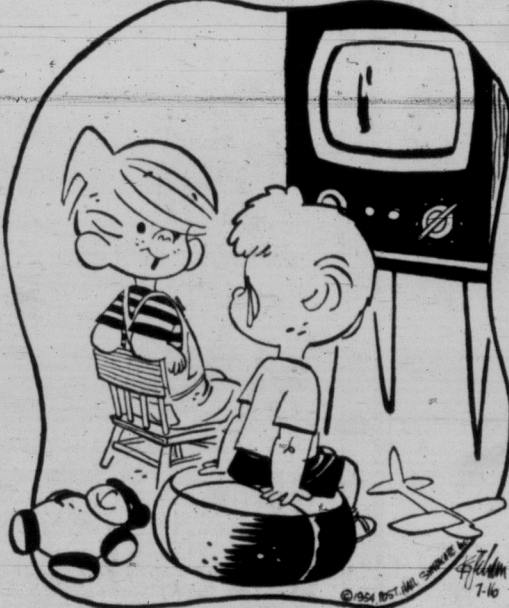

It is true, I grant you, that we all know halfwits who have the gift of making themselves miserable. "Any fool can make himself uncomfortable," as the Guardsman replied when he was reproached with setting up a decent camp. But in the main, a halfwit has a far better chance of being happy than has a more thoughtful type. So on the whole, it is usually ridiculous to pity a successful man for being simple-minded and unhappy at the same time. Select only one of these charges and stick to that, please.

MOUNTAINS OUT OF MOLEHILLS

MY wife is conducting a stubborn rear-guard action against her son and his two pet mice. All over the house we find sawdust and peat and hay and birdseed and split water and a certain aroma. Surely there is one room in the house that the boy can keep his blasted cage out of? Apparently not. And the whole of the sleeping porch is littered with half-dried grass, for the porch has become a sort of Dutch barn, dammit, where next winter's mouse-hay lies drying. Three times this morning my mother asked the boy to get that hay off the porch, and each time he more or less suggested that such a task could easily ruin his life. Finally his mother said "Look here, Mister, you're trying to make a haystack out of a mouse-hole."

Which reminds me of the tourist who objected to too much of the Rose-Marie atmosphere at Banff. "Great heavens," he said to me, "they are trying to make a Mountie out of a mole-hill."

FEW MINUTES FOR A LIFE

Montreal Gazette

"Take a few minutes to save a life." Though this slogan has not been used on the Laurentian highway, it expresses the purpose of the campaign that the courts and the police have carried out. And it has been one of the most heartening and successful campaigns in this province for many a year.

By making motorists drive more carefully and more slowly, a few minutes here and there may have been lost. But a few minutes is worth the lifetimes that would otherwise have been lost, or the time that might otherwise be lost in hospital.

SUMMER STORM

Regina Leader-Post

Hollywood in all its Technicolor 3-D and Cinemascope still cannot produce a spectacle which surpasses a prairie summer storm in grandeur, color and fury. Regina had a grandstand seat the other night for one of the most intense storms in years in this part of the country. Following a blistering day, people stood on their doorsteps at sunset, watching the storm build up and swing across the land.

The body of the storm lay to the east, black as ink. Across it, lightning flickered with never a let-up. Overhead, wisps of grey cloud blew this way and that in the shifting storm winds. From the west, the orange light of the setting sun gave a strange intensity to ordinary colors—green grass, pink peonies, white walls—and lit the tops of the black clouds with a weird glow. And across the horizon trailed grey curtains of rain laced with white streaks of dreaded hail.

Parking meters may have their place but it would hardly seem to be outside a church during Sunday service.

In Montreal parking meters have been installed on a street adjoining St. James Basilica, and La Presse reports the following announcement made by a priest at last Sunday's 9 o'clock mass:

"Before I comment on the Gospel of the day I am sure you will allow me to make this statement to the motorists among you: Those who have parked on Cathedral street may leave for a few minutes during the sermon to put their 5 cents into the parking meters. I am informed the police have started to distribute parking tickets."

Civil and ecclesiastical authorities are reported to be seeking a solution.

RUSHIN' ROULETTE

Fort William Times-Journal

Just the other day a car owner visited a service station in the city. He has a new car with extra power and his speedometer is graded to show speed up to 120 miles an hour. To an attendant at the service station this man said:

"In spite of all they say, this car won't go 120 miles an hour. I know, I've tried it."

Last Sunday another car owner was telling how his make of car was able to pass another make on the highway to Duluth. "I had to step the bus up to 100 miles an hour to pass him, but I did it," he said.

Here we have reasons why newspapers bring out the large black type so regularly to tell the public about another highway tragedy.

FISH FILLETS

Halifax Chronicle-Herald

The recommendation of the United States Tariff Commission for drastic restrictions on the importation of ground-fish fillets, as requested by New England interests, has been rejected by President Eisenhower, and for that Canadians will be deeply grateful.

It is especially heartening news to the Atlantic provinces, which depend on the expanding U.S. market for the bulk of their sales of cod, haddock, pollock, hake, cusk and rosefish fillets; but it is also good news to Canada as a whole, which has been concerned over the signs of protectionism displayed across the border in recent months.

It's astonishing what some people will do for the sake of science. A respected Danish professor, for example, recently reverted to the primitive and chopped down a tree, a 28-inch pine, with a 5,000-year-old stone axe in 18 minutes.

Admirers of Alley Oop will be gratified to see the stone axe vindicated after all these years. Whether it now will replace the cross-cut saw in the lumber industry remains to be seen.

As Our Readers See It

LOWER FARES, MORE TRAFFIC

In Tuesday's issue of the Daily Times, two very potent letters were printed re bus fares being hard on people with small incomes.

I distinctly remember when many years ago I lived in Sheffield, England, that the streetcar company said it was losing money and threatened to raise the fares. At that time the fare was one penny for the whole distance from Tinsley to the other end of the line through Sheffield—a distance of seven miles. A suggestion was offered to the company that if it adopted a half-penny fare for each mile traveled, cars would be full at all times instead of running half full at a loss.

This the company did, and instituted seven half-penny passes in the seven-mile trip. As a consequence all day long the cars carried full loads and made good profits. Now in Victoria and Vancouver many thousands who rarely ride at 10 cents could ride a mile for 5 cents, the buses would be continually filled and the BCE would reap rich returns. This would be a great convenience to elderly pensioners, especially couples travelling together who cannot afford 40 cents to and from town. They would ride only many times where they walk or ride only occasionally now.

OTTAWA AND THE WEST

The problem of unemployment has for some months become more and more apparent. The federal government does not appear to regard the situation as serious but perhaps more accurately it should be stated will not recognize the proportions that it has attained.

The national government, of course, has within its power the almost exclusive control of measures to prevent or alleviate the situation.

It is true that in the realm of defense wholly within the jurisdiction of the federal government and such projects as the St. Lawrence waterway the government has spent and is spending considerable money, flowing from which there has been and will be employment. But, as I see it, where the federal government has failed is to provide the opportunity outside of these obviously national works for citizens to obtain a living in many industrial fields. Furthermore it has failed to show any genuine inclination to give any substantial support to the provinces with reference to provincial projects, such as the PGE, which not only provide direct employment but also open up new fields where industry can be established and prosper.

The attitude of the federal government in refusing in most cases and in resisting in many cases aid to municipalities is also to be deplored.

The policy seems to be emphasized with regard to the western provinces and one is forced to the conclusion that the situation might be rather different if the governments of the three western provinces bore a Liberal label.

This situation is rather accentuated by a recent statement of the Right Honourable C. D. Howe in which he turns a cold shoulder on giving governmental assistance to a west coast gas line from the Peace River to Vancouver. While admitting that the northwestern United States must eventually come to Canada for power, he stated that he believed that the best market for Alberta gas was in Eastern Canada and added "there, I think is a project that the federal government can assist."

Everything in the policy of the Federal Government at present seems to be influenced by its interest in Central and Eastern Canada and especially in Ontario and Quebec upon which two Provinces the government must depend for political support. It would seem from the Federal Government's point of view that the western provinces are expendable in more ways than one.

"LEAN AND HUNGRY LOOK"

"Yond Cassius has a lean and hungry look; He thinks too much: such men are dangerous."

If these lines in Act 1, scene 2, of Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" embody history, it must be clear to us moderns that 1,998 years ago the "hook nosed fellow was fully aware there were dangers in allowing dissatisfied men too much time to think. The correctness of his deduction was strikingly proved almost immediately after the remark when Cassius and several other conspirators embedded their daggers in Caesar's body, ending alike his ambitions and his worries.

I have never qualified as a psychologist, having been obliged all my life to rely on what horse sense nature saw fit to give me. Under these conditions I am wondering whether the BCE, if it had had a recognized psychologist among the specialists advising it, would have announced in the one breath that it meant to collect increased bus fares from the people of Victoria and at the same time reduce the service.

On street corners there are abundant opportunities, even for a humble citizen like myself, to learn that the 15-minute period between buses is freely used to discuss the disadvantages of standing around waiting for buses, some of which have actually been dawdling in idleness at the outer or suburban end of their runs.

It is stated the company has asked to be permitted to make an 8-per-cent reduction in service. If it is true this means longer periods than those practiced at present. It seems obvious that passengers looking for vehicles to make their way downtown to business or other serious occupation will have longer to debate things on the corners. Perhaps the fogs and rains of soon-to-be-here autumn and the chilly winds of winter will engender even stronger expressions of opinion, livelier debates than develop at present. At least the people will have longer to exchange opinions.

The Boy and the Cherry Tree

It isn't much of a cherry tree in the lot across the street and two houses. The blossoms in springtime wouldn't send you dithering along on the wings of poetry.

The fruit never attains much size. You couldn't take one cherry—as you might want to at present prices—and cut it up into pieces for the family. Even the roasts, which aren't finicky, don't pay much attention to it.

But it is a cherry tree and it does bear fruit. And because it is a cherry-bearing tree it provides food for thought and philosophy far better than the palate.

There is a natural affinity between human beings and good cherries. You start eating them and you can't stop. It's a bit like nibbling salted peanuts or almonds. The hand stretches out involuntarily. The fingers close on the fruit and the arm moves to place it in the mouth.

The muscular action is mechanical. Once started it makes its own small attempt at perpetual motion until the cherries are gone. And this in spite of the warning that flashes in the human brain saying: "That's enough. THAT'S ENOUGH."

Cherries, lots of good cherries, have a way of teaching adults the severe lessons of over-indulgence.

ETERNAL DUEL

On the boy, cherries, with no qualifications at all, impose a heavy penalty. There is a juvenile impatience in him which sets him scrambling up a tree when the fruit is just beginning to ripen. There is a hardness in his taste buds which ignores the sourness he finds in them. And there is a great, unplumbed internal capacity which allows him to put away more than he could load into a gunnysack.

If anyone or anything can challenge the cherry successfully, it would be a boy in his early teens. Generation after generation he accepts the challenge. And the cherry always wins.

This week, in a not too detached parental way, we in our house have been exposed to the eternal conflict between the boy and the cherry tree. For a time it appeared that the boy had mastered the cherry—just as it has appeared in countless other years that countless other boys have mastered countless other cherry trees.

The boy came out of the tree with that smug cat-and-canary look. Though he is at that age when juveniles develop hollow legs and can stow away indeterminate quantities of food, he seemed satisfied.

The look persisted for quite a time. Gradually it changed. At dinner time it was one of puzzlement, showing a boy's disbelief that dinner could ever be unattractive.

And by bedtime the cherries had begun the counter-attack. There is a vicious, punishing violence to too many cherries confined in the digestive tract. There is the sting of the viper in them and the crushing power of a boa-constrictor. The victim writhes, thinks of death and hopes that it may come. Nothing so merciful happens.

Here is boyhood's bed of pain—the belly-ache to beat all bellyaches. Babe Ruth in his classic agonies of too many hot-dogs and too much pop knew nothing worse.

ABIDING LESSON

There is a partial remedy of course. Castor oil has a way with stomach aches. But the parent who administers it in the climactic battle of boyhood and cherry tree is thoughtless.

Here is the one traditional object lesson to the child in disciplining the appetites. Give him a large enough pain, and he may learn the virtues of moderation: the kind of moderation which waits until a fruit ripens and then takes it only in judicious quantities.

It is trial by ordeal, but effective. Its illustration of cause and effect can be abiding. It may be impressive for a full year—until the tree on the lot across the street and two houses up produces another crop that is almost ripe, or until the boy outgrows his boyhood and passes the torch of cherry tree battle he received, unknowingly, from his elders, to a younger generation coming up.

Rotarian Urges Better Business Ethics Here

Past President Urges New Executive Foster High-Level Dealings As Part of Club Work

A call for better business ethics in Victoria was made by Past-President J. G. Duck at the forty-first installation of officers in Victoria Rotary Club, Thursday night in the Empress Hotel.

He urged the incoming executive to foster a higher level in business dealings as part of the club's vocational service work. "Business ethics in Victoria and all over Canada, are bad enough," Duck said, adding that the "four-way test" forming part of the club's motto should be applied to transactions before they are consummated.

New president of Rotary is Dr. J. T. Cruise, who succeeds John Gough. He took office last night before a gathering of nearly 200 Rotarians and Rotary-Annes.

New vice-presidents are W. G. Courtney and T. M. Little. Directors are S. P. Birley, J. M. Green, Dr. Peter Mar, G. E. Masters, T. W. H. Walker and Dr. R. J. Wride.

A highlight of Thursday night's 2,033rd meeting of the 166-member club was retiring president Gough's report from the board of directors. He mentioned the club's application of service to community life by financial aid to such groups as the Solarium, Red Cross, Community Chest, Salvation Army, Family Welfare and Conquer Cancer Fund. Equally important, he said, were the assists given youth development projects and the $150 scholarship offered to Victoria College students.

More than $1,300 was spent on Rotary-sponsored boys' and girls' choirs, children's vegetable growing contest held annually, and Little League baseball.

Rotarian Bill Clark provided after-dinner entertainment with choir members Jean Barlow, music festival winner; Terry McBratney and Billy Ritchie, duet vocalists, and the Rotary orchestra, which played dance music as the final portion of the evening's entertainment.

Soviet, Swedish Naval Units Return Visits

New Evidence of Red Peace Drive

STOCKHOLM (AP)—The new Soviet cruiser Admiral Ushakov and four modern Soviet destroyers sailed into Stockholm today on the first Russian naval visit to Sweden since before the Russian revolution.

Earlier today a Swedish naval squadron of similar strength, including the new cruiser Tre Kronor Three Crowns, flagship of the Swedish navy, anchored in the Neva river opposite the Winter Palace of Leningrad.

The Soviet naval visit was the most spectacular Soviet gesture so far towards Sweden in the peace offensive of the Malenkov regime.

It was the second Soviet naval visit to a Western nation since the Second World War. The 15,000-ton Admiral Ushakov is a newly-commissioned sister ship of the Sverdlov, which participated in the Spithead Coronation naval review in Britain last year. The four destroyers are all of the Skoryi class, the most modern destroyer type developed so far by Russia.

Neither the Admiral Ushakov nor any destroyer of the Skoryi type had ever been seen before at close quarters by Western naval experts.

YOUR HEALTH

New High Blood Pressure Drugs

Dr. Alvarez is Emeritus Consultant in Medicine, Mayo Clinic and Executive Professor of Medicine, Mayo Foundation.

People ask me about the new and powerful drugs for the treatment of high blood pressure. There is no question that these drugs, especially when given in combination, will greatly lower the blood pressure.

The first thing for a patient to remember is that if he has the rather harmless type 1 or even type 2 blood pressure, which is not likely to greatly shorten his life or produce many symptoms, he has little reason to spend a lot of money and effort to lower his pressure.

I would not do it if I had the pressure. So far as I can find out, no one knows whether lowering the pressure will change the underlying disease which produces the hypertension. Unfortunately, we don't know just what the disease is due to. We know that the pressure is kept up by nervous influences, by influences coming sometimes from a diseased kidney, by changes in the blood vessels, and perhaps by an over-activity of some of the glands of internal secretion. The fact that the almost complete removal of the sympathetic nerves in the back of the abdomen greatly relieves the high blood pressure in perhaps only one out of five patients, the fact that the removal of adrenal glands also seldom causes a high blood pressure to drop to normal, and the fact that in cases of high blood pressure one rarely finds any disease of the kidney, shows us doctors that as yet we don't know much about the commonest and most basic cause of the disease. Perhaps it is due to a mixture of several causes.

INTELLIGENCE NEEDED

But to get back to the question of the new drugs, the difficulty is that in order to use them a person must have a good deal of intelligence because he is going to have to learn how to take them and to watch what they do to him. He just can't take three pills a day. He will first have to go into a hospital for a few weeks to see how he responds to the drugs, what dosage he can stand, and how severe the side-effects are. These side-effects are perhaps severe constipation, headache, nausea, disturbances of vision, and impotency in the male.

If the drugs work well, he will have to learn to measure his own blood pressure each time before he takes a dose of the medicine. He may even have to take the medicine by hypodermic injection. He must know what he is doing because if he were to take a good-sized dose of the drug when his pressure was already down, he could make himself desperately ill.

There is no question that in some cases in which a man has a serious hypertension which is advancing rapidly he should make the effort to save himself. Often the lowering of the pressure gives him a sort of vacation from the disease, during which time his heart gets a rest, and dangerous changes in his eyes and kidneys can clear up.

Experts tell me that seldom is there much use in cutting the sympathetic nerves after the age of 45, and the specialists at the Mayo Clinic rarely permit the operation after the age of 50. They are not enthusiastic about the results they get with it.

As I have said before, all experts seem to agree that the low sodium diet, such as can be given at home is of no value. A low sodium diet is of value only when the amount of sodium or table salt is as greatly lowered as it can be lowered in a hospital. As I said, a while ago, Dr. Irvine Page, one of the country's experts on high blood pressure, recently admitted before a great convention that he had tried a diet low in sodium and cholesterol with very unpleasant results. It had served mainly to make him very miserable and very irritable and cantankerous.

One of the great difficulties that patients have today with severe hypertension is to find some physician, perhaps in a nearby big city, who has had experience with the new drugs. Many a man like myself does not dare prescribe them because he hasn't had any wide experience in their use. Also, in his hospital, he hasn't a group of assistants trained to watch over these people day and night, as they have to be watched over. Such assistants have to be so well trained that they know what to do if a patient suddenly gets so low a pressure or so little sodium in his blood that he goes into shock.

The million or more persons in the United States who suffer from psoriasis will be happy to hear that there now is a Psoriasis Research Foundation. Its offices are at 1550 Market Street, San Francisco, 2, and the people are now planning a campaign of research to try to throw more light on this disease and its treatment. Many sufferers may want to contribute to the fund. It will give them comfort to know that at last a concerted effort is being made to learn more about this disease which makes them unhappy.

Guinness' Widow Charged With $12,000 Theft

SCHLOSSWILL (AP)—Mrs. Marie Guinness, widow of British millionaire brewer Sir Benjamin Guinness, failed to show up Thursday for the opening of her trial on charges of having stolen $12,000 worth of jewels, antiques and household goods from the home of a friend.

She sent word she was ill. The charges against Mrs. Guinness were based on the complaint of Mrs. Hans Pfyfer von Altshofen of Lucerne that the widow stole the $12,000 worth of goods from her home while she was a guest there.

Montreal Pair Dead After Eating Clams

RIMOUSKI, Que. (CP)—Two members of a Montreal family are dead and five others are in hospital after eating clams picked on the beach at nearby Ste. Flavie on the St. Lawrence River south shore, about 220 miles east of Quebec City.

Dead are: Roland Gird, 42, of Montreal, and Mrs. Jean-Maurice Roy, Mont-Joli, his sister.

Hospital authorities said the family, living in a summer chalet on the beach owned by Alphonse Girard, went on the clam-picking excursion Thursday morning, apparently unaware that clams are considered "dangerous" during the summer months, according to old residents of this area.

Toronto Garbage Gets Perfume Spray

TORONTO (CP)—Toronto has some of the sweetest smelling garbage to be found anywhere.

A six-acre marsh in the west end of the city is being covered over with sanitary fill.

And each of the 1,000 loads dumped daily is sprayed with a deodorant to meet objections of residents who feared the fill would produce an obnoxious odor.

Simple Device Needed to Warn Of Air Attack

WASHINGTON (UP)—United States is trying to perfect some simple device for installation in homes that would alert every family of a target city that an enemy A-bomb or H-bomb attack was imminent.

This was disclosed by Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson in testimony before a house appropriations subcommittee May 10. The testimony was made public today.

Advent of the H-bomb, he said, makes it necessary to try to get all the people possible out of target cities—if they can be warned in time. One alerting device that has been proposed, he said, would be an instrument which would trigger an alarm in the bedroom, say—when the appropriate impulse was sent over the regular electric system serving homes.

But perfection of such a device, as well as creation of an adequate early warning system of continental proportions, probably is a long way off, Peterson said.

English Yachtsmen Dream Of Recapturing America's Cup

By THOMAS KENNEDY
LONDON (Reuters)—England again has her eyes on the America's Cup. A newly-created research council is studying the problems of building a yacht good enough to make the challenge.

Until 1937, races between British and American yachts for the cup were the classics of the yachting world. Sir Thomas Lipton's successive defeats brought him the title "world's best loser."

First goal of the research council will be to put Britain in the running for gold medals in the yachting competition at the 1956 Olympic Games.

The privately-sponsored council, organized by Air Vice-Marshal Sir Cecil Bouchier, plans to carry out an extensive program of scientific research.

OWNERS TOO POOR

Bouchier says British yachtsmen have lost their former standing in international competition because individual owners and builders cannot longer afford to finance research into speedier craft. As a result Britain has not won a major international yachting event for years.

"The Dutch, the Scandinavians and the Americans are all building faster boats," he said, "and Britain now is losing her once valuable export trade in yachts to foreign competition."

The council's aim of building a yacht good enough to make a bid for the America's Cup ironically harkens back to the start of competition for the cup in 1851 when the America, a specially-designed American yacht, started the whole thing by drubbing 14 doughty little British pilot boats in a race around the Isle of Wight.

The stubby English boats with their heavy billowing sails hadn't a chance against the trim and lightly-rigged America.

The then novel design of the Fairley Airplane Co.

After the Civil War the America's Cup race became the big Anglo-American event and in 1899 Lipton and his Shamrock I made their first bid to get it. He never succeeded.

Now, the research council, headed by Lord Brabazon of Tara, pioneer auto racer and aviator, hopes to follow the example of the original America and one day win the cup for Britain by producing a new and better kind of yacht.

When that day comes the British challenger for the America's Cup may be built on airplane principles. Two members of the council are Sir William Farren, expert on aerodynamics and airplane design, and Sir Richard Fairley, head of the

Delay in EDC Ratification Aids Soviet, Adenauer Warns

BONN, Germany (AP)—Chancellor Konrad Adenauer asserted today that "time is working for the Soviet Union" and warned the French that Europe will not wait much longer for their decision on the European Defense Community.

"The delay in the decision over EDC is strengthening the Soviet Union," the chancellor said.

The EDC provides for the limited rearmament of West Germany within a six-country European army.

This was the second time this month that Adenauer has publicly warned France of the consequences of a further delay on this project to shore up West Europe's defenses against a possible Soviet attack.

In a radio address July 2, he told the French that rejection of the EDC would lead to the creation of a German national army.

Today, in an interview with the French newspaper Aurore, Adenauer declared that he will reject any French move to revise the EDC treaty in advance of French ratification.

A rare case of carbon monoxide poisoning occurred Thursday in a downtown alleyway, where a roofing company was boiling asphalt.

Trash had to be revived in hospital, where he is being treated for carbon monoxide poisoning.

Lovesick Sailors Wind Up in Court

English Boys Tried to Delay Ship To Woo New Westminster 'Circe'

BRISTOL, Eng. (UP)—Two 18-year-old sailors awaited trial today on charges of trying to sabotage their ship and delay its sailing from Canada so they could have a second date with a pretty Canadian girl.

The owners of the 5,385-ton freighter Trevelyan accused Robert Edmonds and Charles Martin of risking the safety of the ship and its $4,200,000 cargo in order to see the girl again during the ship's stop at New Westminster, B.C. The girl, whom they met at a dance, was not named.

Prosecutor J. C. Perks said the lovesick sailors decided to pull out a vital pin connecting the steering gear, but an apprentice who happened to be standing nearby overheard them plotting and told the captain. The two were put under arrest as they hovered near the steering gear and the ship sailed unharmed.

"Had they not been apprehended," Perks said, "the ship would have been out in the Fraser River helpless in a five-knot ebb tide with a sandbank nearby. Had the ship hit the sandbank it would have capsized and its valuable cargo and maybe some of the lives aboard would have been lost."

Police said Martin and Edmonds told them they could not bear to sail away and not see the girl again. They were freed on bail pending their trial.

Bank of Canada Steps Up Cremation of Old Money

OTTAWA (CP)—The Bank of Canada has always had money to burn but it is burning it faster than usual these days.

The reason for this stepped-up monetary arson is the new issue of bills due to make their debut sometime after Labor Day.

The bank burns up about $2,000,000 a day in old money, and prints the same amount of new bills; $1,500,000,000 will be "born" in the bank before the end of the year. The same amount will be "cremated" by the gas-fires in the bank's basement, two floors below the street.

Normally the bank turns out $10,000,000 a week, but in the case of the new bills it isn't sure if this will be enough. A bank spokesman says "we shall get ready for the public's curiosity about the new bills and anticipate it as best we can."

The new issue has Queen Elizabeth's picture on the front and Canadian landscapes on the back.

By BILL WALKER

A couple of city youngsters bid for further golf glory next week. And the eyes of Gorge Vale will be on Dorothy Robertson and Shirley Fry at the British Columbia ladies' championships at Shaughnessy Club in Vancouver.

These were the two upstarts who startled the CLGU two years ago at Colwood when they finished one, two, in the junior title race, Shirley winning the honors in a count back both having identical medal rounds.

Shirley went on to gain a place on the B.C. Women's team that year and Dot was the provincial junior representative.

Last year Dot took provincial junior laurels, and now they're at it again.

And too, both will be seeking berths on the inter-provincial squad which will compete in the Canadian championships at Dartmouth, Aug. 5-7. The ladies' open is billed the week following, Aug. 9-14.

According to the grapevine, Dot has a pole position based on medal score this year.

Prior to the B.C. Ladies' meet the annual Hunting Cup matches will take place Sunday.

The city team includes, besides Shirley and Dot, Mrs. R. Barnes of Duncan, Miss M. Crawford, Mrs. Helen Erickson, Mrs. Ada Horsford, Mrs. Harrell, Mrs. T. A. P. Jackson of Nanaimo, Miss M. Mahoney, Mrs. Isobel McIntyre, Mrs. Peggy Harris and Mrs. Elizabeth Rhys-Jones.

Several of the local ladies plan to compete in the tourney proper. However, Mrs. Rhys-Jones, who last week went to the finals of the PNW tournament here, has not entered.

Defending champion is Mrs. Rena Edwards of Vancouver.

Locally, interest switches to the city junior at Victoria Golf Club. Bob Hunt must rank as a prohibitive favorite to retain his title, and, if added reason is needed, because of his victory over Bill McColl in the PNW tourney.

However, Bob may get a battle from young Norm Boden of Gorge Vale, and herein lies a tale.

A three-handicap, Norm has been playing serious golf for slightly over a year. And the story goes that when his dad packed up the game, he passed the clubs on to Norm and almost immediately a new junior star was born. Boden, incidentally, was one of the three golfers to shoot par or better in either of the two 18-hole qualifying rounds of the PNW tourney, coming in with a par 70 on opening day at Colwood.

Hunt finished third in the recent invitational tournament of champions at Vancouver with a 36-hole medal score of 150. Out of that event came the B.C. junior representative for the nationals at London, Ont., next month. He is Kevin Riley, who fired a 142, including a 68, five blows less than Dominion junior champ Gordon McKenzie.

All of which leaves Hunt mighty close to the top of his division.

Probably the question most asked of Laurie Kerr during the PNW was: "Why aren't you in this thing?" Laurie being at the top of his game at the moment and one of the top swingers in the city.

Laurie's answer was simple. He will not be eligible for amateur competition again until next year, as he is currently sitting out the cooling-off period between pro and amateur status.

Frank Seroggs bids for a final berth in the Uplands Club meet on Sunday, and the thought is that here is a fellow who soon will be overdue. Frank has been quietly gaining prestige these past few years and his victory over McColl in the first flight final of the PNW puts him near the top of the class, locally.

Scheduled Saturday

In one of the stiffest battles of the current Victoria City Tennis Championships, third-seeded Peter Peacock won over Rex Jackson at Victoria Lawn Tennis and Badminton Club Thursday.

Peacock, who upset second-seeded Ronnie Mitchell Wednesday night, looked the underdog at the outset, but after losing the first set 6-4 to Jackson, he went on to win the semi-final game with second and third-set wins of 6-2, 6-2.

Jackson, whose play almost brilliant at times, fought a hard battle, but was downed finally by the steadier play of his opponent.

Peacock enters the finals of the men's singles Saturday afternoon against the winner of tonight's match between W. Cameron and D. Godefroy. All tourney finals will be held Saturday afternoon starting at 1.30.

Clare Kinnis reached the finals of the ladies' singles, defeating Gina Grigoletto 4-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Susie Butt, youngest contender in the championship matches, scored an upset victory over Diana Knowles 6-4, 12-10, to enter tonight's women's semi-final match against club champion Margaret Lyons.

Other results: Dunbar and Parker beat Hartley and Miller, 6-4, 6-3; Jackson and McArthur defeated Godefroy and Bishop, 4-6, 6-1, 6-0; Mrs. Lyons and Brant won from Miss Butt and Butt, 6-1, 7-5; W. EMPIRE GAMES TICKETS
AVAILABLE IN NUMBERS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Sam Rosen, singing a blues obligato to the ringing of his cash register, said Thursday he has to sell $215,923 worth of British Empire Games tickets within two weeks.

Mr. Rosen, head of the games ticket committee, said his group has already collected $169,077 by the sale of advance ducats, but still has a distance to go to hit the $385,000 objective.

Track and field is by far the most popular, with $90,000 worth of tickets already snapped up. Swimming places second with $35,000 worth gone.

Swimming and diving are the only events to mark up a one-day sell-out. Not one seat is left of the 6,000 for the final day of swimming, Aug. 6.

There was as much excitement at Oak Bay Boat-house Thursday night as derby day in Saanich Inlet. Charlie Guiguet, fishing with "Tiny" Richards off Ten Mile Point, hooked into and landed a 43 1/2-pound spring. Using a Lucky Louie, Guiguet fought the fish all the way from Ten Mile Point to Fiddle Reef before gaffing the heavyweight.

Richards also pulled in a large-size prize from the same area, boating a 21-pounder.

On Wednesday, Mrs. T. Richards landed a 27 1/2-pound spring in the same area.

RAY RITCHIE—THE SPORTSMEN'S FRIEND

Just Name It,
Ray's Done It

Ray Ritchie could quite rightly be called "the old pro" of local sportsmen's and outdoor organizations.

As much a native of Victoria as the famous hanging baskets, Ray has seen service with every major sportsmen's club and has served at least one year as president of each. It would take a hefty book to chronicle the contributions Ray has made to the causes of conservation and the greater appreciation of the great outdoors of Vancouver Island.

However, in all his endeavors, Ray has never worked harder for any cause than he does on behalf of the Queen Alexandra Solarium in the annual Times-Anglers' Solarium Derby, to be held July 25 in Saanich Inlet.

This unique, one-day derby is probably the greatest charity job handled by Vancouver Island sportsmen. Last year a cheque worth slightly more than $6,000 was presented to the Solarium on behalf of derby officials.

Ritchie's service to the Solarium and outdoors clubs is typical of his life. When he was a mere stripling of 17 in First World War, he left Victoria with the Fifth Regiment.

BEEN AROUND

He was too young to go to the front so he was kept in England until he reached his 18th birthday and then was shipped to the battlefield. Ray went through the Battle of the Somme and was with the first contingent to cross the Rhine.

Ray is just one of many members of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers Association selling derby tickets. Nothing could make him happier than to sell you a ticket. He realizes the needs of the Solarium.

League-leading Tillicums pounded out 15 hits and went on to trounce Esquimalt AA, 17-10, Thursday night in a wild Senior B Men's Softball League contest at Heywood Avenue Park.

Victory for Tillicums boosted their lead over second-place Joe Fosters to four games and dropped Esquimalt into the league cellar, one-half game back of Marys Coffee Bar.

Royals Win,
Here Tonight

New Westminster 15, Nanaimo 14

The troublesome New Westminster Royals, fresh from a 15-14 victory Thursday night over Nanaimo Native Sons at Vancouver, will be here tonight to provide Intercity Lacrosse League opposition for the front-running Victoria Shamrocks.

And the brash youngsters will face the best the Rocks have to offer when they take the floor at Memorial Arena.

Veteran Arnie Ferguson will be back in strip, with Bill Bamford moving up on a line with Alan Gill and Harry Irwin. Tom Druce is listed as utility.

Nanaimo lost on three counts Thursday. Firstly, a goal by Lou Landess with only seconds remaining sent Sons down to their 13th defeat of the season.

Secondly, John Lumley received a further one-game suspension for his part in a fracas at Nanaimo last Saturday. Thirdly, goalie Fred Fulla was hit in the throat by a shot and forced to retire in the third period in favor of Clem Linford.

The score was tied at the time of Fulla's departure.

Lumley will join coach Arnie Duggan on the sidelines when Sons meet PNE Indians Monday night. Duggan is serving a four-game suspension.

Royals' Cliff Sepka led all scorers with four goals, while Landess sniped three for the winners. Spud Morelli scored a hat trick for Nanaimo.

Showers Spark

In Oak Bay Win

Paced by a sparkling four-goal performance on the part of Jack Showers, Oak Bay Shamrocks edged City Bombs, 9-8, in a sudden-death overtime junior lacrosse contest Thursday at Stevenson Park.

The teams had battled scoreless through one overtime period to set the stage for Showers, who netted the winner in the second overtime canto.

Jack Wilson fired two counters for the winners. Dick Austin scored three goals and had two assists. Stu Smith scored a hat trick and added one assist for the losers.

Next game is scheduled for Stevenson Park on Monday night at 6.30 with Strathcona Cafe meeting Oak Bay Shamrocks.

Eagles Gain Finals
Of Bantam Ball Series

Esquimalt Eagles advanced to the Victoria and District Amateur Baseball Association bantam league playoff finals Thursday night at Beacon Hill Park by shading league-winning Fernwood Eagles, 11-10.

It was Esquimalt's second straight victory over Fernwood and moved the winners to the finals against either Hagels, Chesterfield or Vic Van Storage.

Hagels and Vic Vans will meet in the second game of their semis tonight at Beacon Hill at 6.30. Vic Vans won the first game.

Esquimalt scored the winner Thursday night when Barry Menzies drew a walk and then scored on Dick Spark's triple in the seventh and final inning.

To Hold Lead

Victoria 5, Wenatchee 4

By RON COULTER

There's an old saying in baseball that "the game is never over until the last man is out."

And, after two successive Victoria Tyees last inning wins, local ball fans are now inclined to refuse to take anything for granted.

Wednesday night at Royal Athletic Park it was catcher Don Lundberg who climaxed a tense ninth inning by picking on one of John Marshall's hanging curve balls for a three-run homer to send Lewiston Broncs packing, 7-4.

Thursday night it was a combination of events before and in the hectic final frame which led to Tyees' 5-4 win over Wenatchee Chiefs. A near riot followed the game before an estimated 1,800 fans at British Empire Games Night.

It all started when Lundberg singled in Tom Perez to tie the count, 4-4, in the eighth. Wenatchee pitcher Chuck Beamon then survived the inning without further damage and Mike Kinsch came on in the ninth for Victoria to replace a tiring Berlyng Hodges. He set the Chiefs down in order.

Beamon, who had effectively scattered nine Tyees hits until the ninth, yielded another base blow to manager Don Pries leading off in the last of the ninth.

Dain Clay sacrificed Pries to second and successive walks to Neil Sheridan (intentionally) and Perez, plus perhaps the effect of strong bench jockeying, loaded the bases with only one out.

Beamon, under constant verbal fire from the Tyees bench and Milt Martin in particular, walked Eddie Lake on a three and two pitch to force in the winning run. He then attempted to make his way into the Tyees dugout by force.

However, after both dugouts had emptied and a minor pushing scuffle ensued, Beamon was restrained by his teammates.

Such was the final inning, but there was additional entertainment in pre-game ceremonies. Tyees upset Victoria Shamrocks, 1-0, in a two-inning game in which both teams fielded with lacrosse sticks and batted with baseball bats.

Flo Chadwick, who will attempt to swim from Victoria to Port Angeles in early August, appeared in a Tyees uniform and answered several questions in an interview conducted by Times published Stuart Keate. She also tried her hand at batting and base running.

"FAREY NIGHT"

Tonight at Royal Athletic Park will be "Farewell Ed Farey Night" and fans wishing to bring gifts may leave them at the main office.

Game time tonight is 8, and it could be that the two teams will take up where they left off on Thursday night with the Tyees jealously guarding the WILL lead.

MOORE GETS PHIL POST, BUT REDS SPOIL DEBUT

CINCINNATI, O. (UP)—Terry Moore swallowed the disappointment of losing a double-header on his first night as the new manager of the Philadelphia Phillies and said with a grin, "Oh well, they say a poor beginning is a good ending."

Moore, hired to replace the genial Steve O'Neill Thursday because the Phillies' high command feels "a change was in order," said that his first task will be to become more familiar with his team. The Phils lost to Cincinnati 2-1 and 4-3.

SET NEW HOME MARK

Braves Trim Brooks Twice

The largest crowd ever to watch a baseball game in Milwaukee beheld a sight not seen in almost two years.

A turnout of 43,633 paying customers—a county stadium record—watched the Braves open with spectacular pitching and close with a sensational batting rally to defeat the Brooklyn Dodgers in both ends of a doubleheader Thursday night, 2-0 and 9-8.

The double defeat was the first suffered by the Dodgers since Sept. 6, 1952. Since then they had played 27 twin bills, winning 15 and splitting 12.

The two losses, combined with New York's 4-0 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals, boosted the Giants' first-place National League margin over the Dodgers to 6½ games.

Cleveland Indians retained their half-game edge over New York in the tight American League race, defeating Philadelphia Athletics 4-0 as the Yankees edged Baltimore Orioles 3-1.

Chicago's third-place White Sox fell four games off the pace as they fell before Washington 3-2. Detroit and Boston divided a day-night doubleheader, the Tigers winning the nightcap 4-2 after the Red Sox had taken the opener 3-1.

Cincinnati's Redlegs climbed into a three-way tie for third place with Milwaukee and Philadelphia, sweeping both ends of a two-night twin bill from the Phillies 2-1 and 4-3 to spoil Terry Moore's managerial debut. Chicago's Cubs knocked off the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates twice in the afternoon, 9-3 and 3-0, as Hank Sauer and Ernie Banks homered in each game.

The Dodgers were limited to only three singles in the opening game by Milwaukee's Bob Buhl, who won his first game of the season after seven defeats. But they appeared to have the second game in the bag as the Braves came up for their last turn at bat trailing 8-3. Then with two out and the bases full, the aroused Braves unloaded four straight hits to pull the game out of the fire.

Elks Nip Oak Bay In Runfest

Fourteen men at the plate in one inning resulting in a string of eight runs, gave Elks a better end to a 13-12 thriller against Oak Bay Kiwanis at Little League Park Thursday night.

The contest, which saw Oak Bay drop to three-and-one-half games behind the American League-leading Kinsmen, reached the climax in the fourth inning when Elks went on their hitting spree to forge ahead to a 12-3 lead.

The last two innings saw Oak Bay stage a tremendous but fruitless comeback, picking up four runs in the fifth and four runs in the sixth, to end one run back of the winners.

Barry Hitchens, winning pitcher, gave up nine hits and eight bases on balls, and Ron Spence, losing hurler, handed out six hits and nine bases on balls.

Fletchers Move Ahead On Wiebe's 3-Hitter

Fletchers 5, Mayo Lumber 2

Cec Fletchers fielded another make-shift team Thursday night at Central Park, but they still had enough to beat Mayo Lumber 5-2 and take a two-point lead in the Senior A. Men's Softball League.

However, their two-point edge is liable to go by the boards this week-end when Arrows play two games with the Duncan nine. Arrows have three games in hand.

Ab Wiebe threw a three-hitter at the up-Islanders, but his outfield earned the real plaudits with a fine defensive performance.

Fletchers scored twice in the first inning and never looked back. Duncan got one back in the second. After Bernie Clark scored a 4-2 lead the issue was never in doubt.

Clarkson scored another run in the seventh, his third of the night, to close out the scoring.

GAME TONIGHT

Tonight Chinese Students will attempt to get back in contention when they meet United Services. At the moment they trail the service team by two points and could move to within four points of first place with a win. Game time is 6:45 and marks another of the "give away nights."

League officials have announced the complement of the Senior A. Men's team to compete in the B.E.G. benefit game to be played against the Women's League all-stars on Sunday afternoon. The following players from United Services and Cec Fletchers are asked to report: M. Smith, G. Kinch, T. Bishop, J. McCormick, K. Pollock, L. Wilson, G. Hilton, A. Wiebe, N. Martin and C. Sansbury.

Denny Shute Still Retains Master Touch

CLEVELAND (AP)—Denny Shute, Akron's aging "pro," made one of his rare tournament appearances Thursday and gave the youngsters a golf lesson in the first round of the $25,000 Manakiki Open.

Shute arrived late and fired the first hole wearing his street shoes. He negotiated the 408 yards in two strokes, canning a 140-yard seven-iron shot for an eagle stroke. Then he donned his spikes, birdied five other holes and sauntered in with a 31-35—66 over the 6,651-yard par, 36-36—72 layout.

That performance, along with the disqualification of Jimmy Clark of Huntington Beach, Calif., gave Shute a one-stroke edge over his nearest foe. Clark matched the 66 with a 32-34—66 round, but was erased because he posted the wrong score for two holes.

Shute's 72 was cut to the 100 top scores for the third round and will be chopped to 69 tonight for the final round.

Top Northwest Driver May Race at Western

Don Olds, the leading big race car driver in the Pacific Northwest, is scheduled to make his local debut Saturday night at Western Speedway.

Olds is expected to be behind the wheel of Leo Dorby's Offenhauser, one of the fastest cars north of California and valued at $7,500, when time trials get under way at 7:30.

The motor in Dorby's car was used in a car named the "City of Tacoma" at the 1951 Indianapolis 500-mile classic and placed sixth in that event.

Olds has established an impressive reputation in racing circles in the United States and Canada and has appeared here before in 1949 at the former Langford Speedway.

Olds is planning to compete in the Indianapolis next year.

Error Helps Eskimos

EDMONTON (CP)—Edmonton Eskimos made it three straight in their seven-game series with Yakima by edging the Bears, 9-8, in an extra-inning Western International League game-Thursday night before a crowd of 1,000.

Edmonton scored three runs in the ninth to send the game into extra time. The winning run came when shortstop Dick Briskey, trying for a double play after a put-out at second, threw wildly to first.

Cudd was defeated by Lyle Crawford of Vancouver in the semifinal round of the PPGA tourney in Victoria last week.

The closest amateur has come to winning the Open was in 1919 and 1920 when Bobby Jones and Tommy Armour were runners-up to J. Douglas Edgar of Atlanta, Ga.

Fletcher has the chance of being the first Canadian to capture the title since 1914 when Karl Kaffer of Ottawa turned the trick.

FOUR BELOW PAR

Cudd's 69, equalled late in the day by Rudy Horvath of Windsor, was the lowest score of the second round as only four players cracked par, compared to 13 on the first day.

Rosburg, who scorched the par-71 Point Grey course with a record-breaking 63 Wednesday, skidded to a 72 and lost his two-stroke lead over Fletcher.

The big Saskatoon pro, playing some of the steadiest golf of his long tournament career, added a workmanlike 70 to his first round 65.

Playing behind Rosburg, Fletcher went one under par on the front nine and then matched par figures on each hole coming home. His 40-foot putt for a birdie and the half-way lead on the 18th rimmed the cup and rolled 20 inches past.

Right behind the leaders with 138 was Bill Welch of Kennewick, Wash., with round of 67-71.

Horvath and Gordie Brydson, veteran Toronto professional, were bracketed with 139s.

Bob Porter, Vancouver amateur playing his home course, came up with the shot of the day when his second shot on the par five, 460-yard 18th rolled into the cup for a double eagle.

The field of 126 was cut to the 100 top scores for the third round and will be chopped to 69 tonight for the final round.

Supreme Court Orders Return Of Down Payment on Property

NANAIMO—A Parksville couple was ordered by a Supreme Court judgment to return money paid for property because a stenographer had omitted a forfeiture clause in a printed "agreement of sale" she was copying for her employer, the couple's solicitor.

Credit Union Will Serve Sooke Region

SOOKE — First steps were taken Wednesday night to form the Sooke and District Credit Union when George Stirling, field representative and assistant manager of the B.C. Credit Union League, met with local citizens.

Mr. Stirling outlined the operation of credit unions and pointed out that the Sooke area was a particularly fertile field for a union since there is no bank in the district.

R. F. Williams, Victoria, director of the league, the central credit union, and the national organization, also spoke.

Ten of those present signed a charter to establish the union here. It is expected that this will be returned from the attorney-general's department within a week.

A general meeting then will be held, and officers elected.

Move Under Way To Split Nanaimo School District

NANAIMO — Trustees of School District 68 will meet next week to discuss division of the district.

Mrs. M. Ricker, trustee, said growth of the district had been so rapid in recent years that more than a double burden has fallen on the school board.

Division of the area into two school districts might solve its problems, she said.

Several members of the school board are planning to attend the annual convention of the B.C. School Trustees' Association at Penticton Sept. 29, 30 and Oct. 1.

Immediate changes in government policy on education will be discussed at the convention, trustees said.

LADYSMITH (CP) — Exemption of principals from the School Act provision that all teachers be members of the B.C. Teachers' Federation will be urged by the Ladysmith School Board in a resolution to the B.C. School Trustees' Association convention.

MILLS, MINES AND BASKETS

Ladysmith Couple Married In Belgium 50 Years Ago

LADYSMITH — Mr. and Mrs. Edward Peerens, Saltair, who were married in Temse, Belgium, in 1904, and who have lived in British Columbia since 1907, on Saturday will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

They lived in Vancouver for two years; then in 1909 moved to Ladysmith, and Mr. Peerens went to work at the Extension coal mines. He held the job for 24 years, then transferred to the Chemainus sawmill and is still employed there.

BASKET WEAVER

During his early days in this country Mr. Peerens carried on his European trade of basket weaving, using the willow that grew so plentifully in the Ladysmith district.

All the family helped by cutting, sorting and peeling the willows, and the children, now parents and grandparents, still remember each willow-gather.

According to a judgment handed down by Mr. Justice Norman Whittaker, Mr. and Mrs. James Ingram Hirst were awarded $17,979.25 in their suit against Mr. and Mrs. Roger Moore. The money represented a down payment on the property concerned.

The down payment was in the form of two mortgages and house property.

The solicitor who drew the agreement said it was his intention to insert a forfeiture clause which his stenographer omitted in making the copy.

EVIDENCE CLEAR

The judgment stated that "even assuming that he intended to insert the forfeiture claim and that it was inadvertently omitted by his secretary, the evidence was clear that the solicitor said nothing about the clause to the parties. The parties themselves did not discuss it, and they signed the agreement as drawn after looking it over and finding its terms satisfactory."

Application of the defendants to set off against the claim the amount of loss incurred in selling the mortgages, $4,500 commission paid the selling agents, and costs of the case, were refused. The plaintiffs are also to be returned all sums paid on adjustment of taxes and insurance premiums as well as sums paid by them in reduction of the $12,000 mortgage against the property.

Nitinat Camp Selected As Movie Locale

Nitinat Camp of B.C. Forest Products, at the head of Cowichan Lake, will be the scene of the Republic Pictures movie "Timberjack," to be filmed starting Aug. 20.

W. Blake Owen-Smith, Canadian representative of the Hollywood company, has informed Deputy Trade Minister E. G. Rowebottom that the Nitinat site will be satisfactory.

Cast headed by Broderick Crawford, Vera Ralston and Charlton Heston, and a crew that will swell the total in the company to 150, will be "on location" for six to eight weeks.

Already made are some action sequences including tree-topping, timber-loading, and the crashing of a locomotive through a tree-stump barrier.

Extras will be recruited in Victoria and the Cowichan Lake area.

Port Construction Doubled in Year

PORT ALBERNI—Value of building permits issued here in the first six months of this year is almost double that for the same period a year ago.

Figures are $344,856 for this year, and $179,650 for a year ago.

Large items last month included $66,704 for extension of a wharf, $12,000 for the conversion of three army huts, and $28,000 for construction of four new dwellings.

TRIP TO HOMELAND

In 1920 Mrs. Peerens, accompanied by her daughter, now Mrs. M. Kotilla, made her only trip back to Belgium to visit her mother and her husband's family.

Besides Mrs. Kotilla they have a second daughter, Mrs. John Lapsley, Chemainus, and a son, Victor.

In 1944 Mr. and Mrs. Peerens moved to their present home in Saltair. Their property overlooks the Saltair lagoon, and in spring hundreds of passing motorists slow down to admire their terraced garden.

Chamiss Bay on Proposed Air Service Route

Chamiss Bay, above, is one of west coast settlements that would benefit by improved transportation service. Fishing village is on Kyuquot Sound, 120 miles northwest of Port Alberni, proposed base of air line seeking to establish service. Others are Muchalat and Tahsis.

E. H. Emery Elected Head Of Island Trustees' Group

NANAIMO—E. H. Emery, trustee of School District 62, Sooke, was elected president of the Vancouver Island School Trustees' Association at its meeting here Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Emery replaces W. J. Long, District 65, Cowichan.

Mrs. Marion Ricker, District 68, and Walter Jeanne, District 61, Victoria, are vice-presidents.

R. W. Ovenden, secretary of District 61, Ladysmith, was re-elected secretary-terasurer.

Trustees decided against dividing the Island boards into two associations to secure an additional representative on the B.C. School Trustees' Association executive, and instead will apply to that body for two executive seats instead of one at present.

R. H. Reeve, District 61, Victoria, vice-president, BCSTA, told the meeting comprising representatives of Island school boards from Victoria to Campbell River that the B.C. Public Schools Act "is in for an overhaul" and now was a good time to submit resolutions concerning possible changes in the act.

Central Saanich Road Maintenance Program Planned

SAANICHTON — Central Saanich road oiling program for the season will be started in about 10 days, according to Reeve Sydney Pickles.

The extensive and costly road oiling program that has been carried on each year since 1951 is now paying off, he said.

The surfacing seal built up on most of the municipality's roads will ease maintenance costs, he said.

Building of new culverts and ditches to carry off excess water is included in the maintenance program.

Sports Day Proposed

BRENTWOOD — Brentwood Community Club has called a special meeting for July 20 to arrange plans for the holding of a sports meet at McKevitt field.

Residents Criticize West Coast Service

Air Transport Board Holds Hearings on Two Applications to Serve Island Areas

VANCOUVER (CP)—Vancouver Island's west coast has poor transport services, witnesses told the Air Transport Board at hearings here Thursday.

The board is considering two applications by Pacific Western Airlines to operate a class two service between Port Alberni and Vancouver and a class three service between Port Alberni and Chamiss Bay.

Queen Charlotte Airlines is contesting PWA's applications. QCA now runs a class one service from Vancouver to Tofino, operates the class two Muchalat-Tahsis-Zeballos-Chamiss Bay route, and has a class three service on the same Tofino-Chamiss route.

"The present Canadian Pacific ship on the west coast is totally inadequate," said Norman Schroeder, Port Alberni bank manager and president of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Vancouver Island.

"It's supposed to run three times a month, but if the weather is at all heavy, it must stay in harbor."

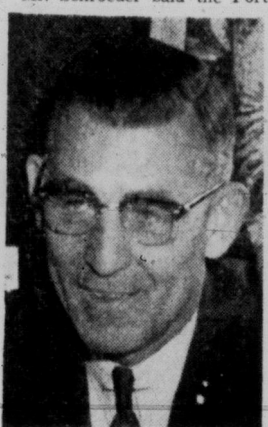

Most bus services between Alberni and Nanaimo have been discontinued, said John A. Moore, financial secretary of the International Woodworkers of America.

Sick and injured people now must travel overland from Alberni to Nanaimo. Mr. Moore described the mountain road as "quite hazardous" in winter. "Isn't there a charter plane at scene?"

Port Alberni?" asked Esmond Lando, counsel for QCA.

"I believe so," replied the witness, "but the price isn't right."

Mr. Schroeder said the Port

"QCA had a franchise for years," Mr. Schroeder said, "but showed no interest in our area until PWA appeared on the scene."

LOG TRUCK WINNING BAD REPUTATION

SOOKE—Reg Piercy, Sooke logging contractor, is convinced that his logging truck is jinxed.

Six weeks ago it turned over at the 17-Mile corner to damage the Hi-Way Grocery.

It gave an augmented performance Thursday when it was in a collision with a pickup truck at the intersection of the Sooke Road and Harborview Road.

Neither Euclid Charlesbois, driver of the truck, nor Hank Van Ek, in the pickup, were injured, but both vehicles were badly damaged, and traffic was held up for an hour while the loaded logging truck was dragged clear.

First prize is a 14-foot runabout built by the Birdseye Boat Works. The trim little craft is made of plywood with mahogany trim, and comes equipped with a 4 h.p. outboard, ready to go.

Placid Guernsey Butts Four, Wrecks Cars, Panics Score in Rampage Through Portland

PORTLAND (AP) — A cow he got a report of a cow on the loose in northeast Portland Thursday, butted four persons, panicked several more and kicked in the sides of two police cars before capture.

The cow, a Guernsey, looked docile enough when Mrs. Hubert R. Mendenhall bought her at an auction north of Vancouver, Wash., but took an instant dislike to Portland.

"As soon as she got out of the truck she went wild," reported Mrs. Mendenhall.

Policeman David O. Riley said and then she kicked in the sides of our cars, but we held on," said Riley.

A truck took the cow back to the Mendenhalls.

Mrs. Mendenhall said she was going to take the cow back to the Washington auction house.

"She's just too wild," said the Portland woman.

He trailed the cow several blocks. Along the way the cow charged a woman and bumped her into a rock embankment.

With the aid of another police car, Riley finally hemmed in the cow.

"We both got ropes onto her

Entomologists Here Discover Cheap Way to Fight Bulb Fly

Cheap method of controlling one of the most damaging insects to the bulb industry, greenhouse plants and amateurs' gardens, has been discovered by federal entomologists stationed in Victoria.

The insect, known as the narcissus bulb fly, has been brought under control after two years of research by fruit entomology laboratory technicians under Harry Anderson of Victoria, one of Canada's leading entomologists.

The discovery will save thousands of dollars for bulb and allied garden industries in all parts of the world.

The fight to control these tough insects which attack daffodils and other bulbous plants, was also carried on by British and United States scientists, but the Victoria team was the first to achieve the objective.

The insect in the past has caused widespread damage to the bulb and greenhouse industry in British Columbia. In 1949 the infestation was as high as 75 per cent in some fields and caused heavy losses.

The insect is a robust, hairy, two-winged fly about half an inch long, greatly resembling a small bumble bee. The larvae of the fly enters the bulb and finally destroys the plant.

The main aspect of the new method of controlling the insect is that it is economical and within the means of growers. The pests can now be destroyed by several methods devised by the Victoria entomologists.

These include the use of such insecticides as aldrin or chlordane, a hot water treatment, and fumigation of the bulbs. Details of all these methods of control can be obtained from the Fruit Insect Section, Entomology Laboratory in Victoria.

BETWEEN TIMES

By MONTE ROBERTS

The pup-dog, J.B., wasn't around when I awoke this morning, but before I became alarmed, I found a note she had left for me.

"Dear old man I have gone for my morning workout down to the beach will you make sure our favorite wife has a big breakfast ready and also bring me my towel thank you your swimming friend J.B."

Slightly amazed at this new manifestation of eccentricity on the part of the pup-dog I dressed hurriedly, and scrambled down to the beach.

J.B., of course, is a rather unusual type dog, so I was not exactly surprised at the sight which greeted me when I reached the water's edge.

Several hundred yards out to sea, I perceived a small, black head, pointed in the direction of the beach. The small, black head appeared to be making good time.

About three feet behind the small, black head, the water was being churned up into a rooster tail slightly smaller than those sent up by the Gold-Cup racers.

As you have already guessed, the small, black head belonged to J.B., but, believe me, you would have been amazed to note the speed she was making.

Spying me at the water's edge, she raised a paw and waved gaily. "I'm coming in," she called, increasing her stroke until her wake set a pair of nearby fish boats to rocking furiously.

In a matter of seconds, J.B. reached the beach, and walked out to where I stood.

"Hi," she said, taking off her bathing cap and shaking the water out of her ears.

"Well, hi, yourself!" I replied, somewhat nonplussed. "What is this note you left me, telling about a morning workout?"

"Huh? You heard?" J.B. asked, as she accepted the towel and began to rub herself down, vigorously. "I am going to swim Juan de Fuca Strait."

"Swim it?" I exclaimed. "You can't even pronounce it."

"That's because I don't Juan to," J.B. snickered. She adjusted her waterproof watch, handed back the towel, and strode up the beach toward the house.

"Say, what is this?" I cried, trotting after her. "I thought Florence Chadwick was going to swim the Strait?"

J.B. paused, and looked back over her shoulder. "Of course she is," said J.B. "and so am I."

"I have to," she added. "It's in Miss Chadwick's contract with Bapco. She won't swim unless I swim with her... to protect her from fat fish."

"This," said J.B., as she entered the house and headed for a hot shower, "is the Strait goods."

In the old days the Cowboy Game was rougher than it is now. The first time I saw my friend, Montana Tex, he was in his ramshackle barn wearing dirty overalls. He was milking his one cow and rolling a homemade cigarette at the same time (made the cow pretty nervous worrying about what he was gonna light). But today Tex owns a big ranch and is a millionaire. He rides a low-slung Italian horse with white side-walls, buys his bandanas at Neiman-Marcus and votes Republican. He owes his success to a practical arrangement he's worked out with the folks in Chicago. Tex keeps raising the beef and they keep raising the prices. This arrangement has made more people vegetarians than Bernarr McFadden.

FLO CHADWICK SCHEDULED FOR 8.10 P.M.

Inner Harbor Showboat Opens Summer Funtime Shows Tonight

Notes from the bell of a German destroyer, sunk by Canadian torpedoes in the English Channel in the Second World War, will start the Chamber of Commerce Showboat program tonight at 7.30.

Able Seaman Bruce McKenzie, 15, of Royal Canadian Sea Cadet Corps "Rainbow," will ring the bell as quartermaster of the first harbor showboat since before the war.

Conversion of an old scow into a waterfront showpiece representing a 19th century side-wheeler, was made this week by employees of George Wheaton Ltd.

The boat has two dressing rooms, separated by a deck and side wings; masts rigged with yard arms; a funnel and paddle wheel set amidships. Stage lights and a loud-speaker system are provided so people standing at the railing on Belleville Street may see and hear the performance clearly.

Special guests at the opening will include Minister of Trade and Industry Ralph Chetwynd, who will offer greetings from the provincial government, and swim champion Florence Chadwick.

George Wheaton, Chamber of Commerce president, will declare the show open for its seasonal run of four nights weekly until mid-August.

At 7.35, Conway Parrott, chairman of the Chamber tourist trade group and president of the publicity bureau, will make Harold Elworthy "Captain of Showboat," by presenting him with his cap, and the quartermaster then rings the bell.

First on stage will be the Hometowners, followed at 7.50 by Dawn Draper and John Mooney, square dance callers.

For this portion of the program, three segments of the Western Dance Association—Bonnets and Jeans Club, Double D's Club and the Broken Spokes—will participate.

At 8 p.m., local baritone John Dunbar, who has starred on "Singing Stars of Tomorrow," will sing "Road to the Isles" and "Old Man River."

Miss Chadwick will make her appearance at 8.10, introduced by Fred Manning, assistant general manager of British American Paint Co., co-sponsor with the Times of Miss Chadwick's Strait attempt in August.

Adeline Duncan's Scottish dancers will go on at 8.20, and for the finale, the Hometowners will again take the spotlight.

MELANCHOLY COMEDY

Gruber, Graham, Johnson

Blast Refusal of Grants

The city council staged a melancholy comedy when it refused grants to the Victoria Symphony Orchestra, says Hans Gruber in his weekly article Saturday in The Times. It was vote-catching economy that may backfire, he intimates.

On the same subject Audrey St. D. Johnson says the council plagues gaudy paper-and-tinsel-shows before art.

Colin Graham of the Art Centre compares the attitude of the city council with that of others in Canada, especially in the case of capital cities.

All these articles on the subject appear in Saturday's Times.

Scottish Clans Ready For Highland Games

Victoria's Royal Athletic Park will take on all aspects of a gathering of the clans Saturday with the staging of the annual Highland games.

The air will be filled with "hoops" and "hiss" starting at 9 a.m., when highland dancing competitions are scheduled to begin.

Heather Duncan, defending champion in the under-16 highland dancing class, will head a list of more than 100 dancers in the under-16, under-13, and under-nine groups. They will test their skill at the Highland Fling, Sword Dance, Seann Truibhas, Reel o' Tulloch, Irish Jig and Sailor's Hornpipe.

A Pacific international award will be presented to the top professional dancer.

A program of the sports peculiar to the glens of Scotland will begin at 1.15 p.m. and at 1.30 field sports will get under way.

B.E.G. CONTESTANTS

An added attraction will be the entry of British Empire Games contestants. Latest to sign, for competition here are three women and two men of Toronto North Shore, all of whom will come from Vancouver for the meet.

They are jump stars R. Adams, Jackie MacDonald and Connie Gled, pole vaulter Ron Miller and sprinter Faye Barager.

At 2.15 Provincial Secretary Wesley Black will declare the games under way, and immediately pipers from Island and Mainland points will begin skirling their best for the Pacific International professional pipers' prize, the James Marr Cup for jig piping and the Col. Ross Napier Trophy for the pibroch.

Pipe bands from Seattle, Vancouver and Victoria will perform. A special contest has been arranged for two juvenile bands—the Greater Victoria Schools' Pipe Band and a Seattle group directed by Jack Ironsides.

Following the games a dance will be held at the K of P Hall. Sponsor of the annual event is Victoria Highland Games Association.

Jailed Boy Blames Father's Beatings

Crime Record Followed Unhappy Family Life

A youth described by Magistrate H. C. Hall in city police court today as a "boy with a long criminal record in a short life" was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

The magistrate, in sentencing Vernon Minow, 18, 2835 Graham, who pleaded guilty to four theft and driving offenses, said the best thing for the accused was to send him to penitentiary where he would receive proper psychiatric treatment.

Minow pleaded guilty to charges of taking a car without the owner's consent, theft of gum valued at $48, dangerous driving and driving without a license.

"The authorities have done everything they could for you," said Magistrate Hall after the youth asked the court "for one more chance" to make good.

"You have been given every consideration by welfare agencies," added the magistrate. "You were sent to industrial school and finally to Oakalla prison because the authorities could do nothing with you."

Minow in his plea for a suspended sentence said if he was released and got a job he would be willing to turn over part of his pay as a bond to show that he meant to go straight.

The youth blamed his father and his family life for his troubles.

He said he was "beaten" by his father and was so maltreated that at the age of seven was sent to a foster home.

IN BISCO AT 11

At the age of 11, he said, he began to get into trouble and was sent to industrial school.

"I did not like it there," he added. "I was teased and on one occasion I was stripped of my clothes and beaten. The public don't see these things."

Minow said after he was released from Oakalla prison early this year, he tried to get along with his father, but left his home after a quarrel with him. "He came after me with a plank," he said, "and I went after him with an axe. My father said I was no good and could not earn my living."

Ferry Firm Ignores Public Works Order

Operator Stops Sale of Commuter Tickets For Use on Brentwood-Mill Bay Crossing

Coast Ferries Limited this week discontinued sale of commuter tickets on the Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry in open defiance of a public works department order.

Works officials revealed the company had requested permission to discontinue the commuter rates, but a letter mailed May 13 denied permission.

Persons attempting to purchase the commuter tickets Sunday were informed they were no longer available.

Today, Alec Wilby, an official of Coast Ferries, admitted to the Times that special rate ticket sales had been stopped.

"Yes, it is true," he said. "Mr. Wilby said he would prefer not to have anything printed about that."

The government letter stated: "The government is not prepared to grant permission for discontinuation of commuter rates on the Brentwood-Mill Bay ferry service."

Deputy Works Minister Evan Jones is conducting an investigation into the matter.

Mr. Haldane said he was granted a private interview with Philip Le Brun at RCMP headquarters. He added that he has asked reduced bail and an earlier hearing for his client as a result.

Thursday Mr. Haldane publicly charged RCMP officials had denied the prisoner the right to a "private" interview with counsel.

SHOPPING GUIDE

American Morello Cherries
Excellent for Pie-Making

By PENNY SAVER

Does your family crave a cherry pie? And have you been trying to decide what sort of cherries make the best pie?

Well, today I saw a display of those new American Morello cherries, and they are advertised as being the ideal pie cherries. Apparently they are sweeter and juicier than other types of pie cherries, so why not try them? (I can see that pie already... a la mode).

And while on the subject of cherries, I might add that Bing cherries have come down in price a little from last week. They are now 25 cents for half a pound, instead of being 50 cents a pound... 9 cents a pound difference is a good saving.

Red currants are seen in all produce stores this week, at 27 cents a pound. Black currants are 22 cents a pound. Raspberries are only 25 cents a basket this week, compared with the former price of 35 cents a basket. Strawberries are 25 cents a basket, too, while logans are 20 cents.

Plums are 29 cents a pound and peaches are four for 25 cents. Green, seedless grapes are 29 cents a pound and Ribier grapes are 39 cents a pound.

As for vegetables, may I suggest some wax beans, at 25 cents a pound? Green beans are 30 cents a pound and broad beans are two pounds for 35 cents, compared with last week's price of 20 cents a pound.

Green peppers for cool summer salads, are 30 cents a pound. Corn cobs are three for 27 cents and large size cauliflower are 20 cents each.

A double-ring ceremony in St. Matthias' Church recently united in marriage Barbara Ann Scratchley, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Scratchley, 2124 Hall Road, with Samuel L. Graham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Graham of Bangor Down, Ireland. Rev. F. E. Tomalin officiated.

The church was decorated with Madonna lilies, blue delphiniums and gladioli. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white nylon net and lace ballerina-length gown with lace jacket featuring lily-point sleeves. Her headress was of pleated net, caught at the sides with clusters of lily of the valley, to hold her fingertip veil of illusion net. Red Tullisman roses and stephanotis formed her wedding bouquet.

AS WE LIVE

Catalogue of Virtues
Helps to Assay Lover

By ELIZABETH R. HURLOCK, PhD

There are times when a person must use strong will-power, to make himself realize that there is nothing to be gained by wasting time on a person whose interests lie elsewhere. The case described here is one of them:

Hurlock

(Q)—"I was going out quite steadily with a fellow for two years. During the third year, we started to split up and go with others. I still love him and do not enjoy the company of other fellows. He still takes me out a little—about once a month. He keeps telling me he loves me but never really does anything to prove it. Right now he is going with another girl, but he calls me and comes over to see me occasionally. There is another fellow I go with who says he loves me, but I just can't seem to meet anyone who comes up to my first love. Please try to help me, as this is steadily affecting my health and my work."

(Q)—You must help yourself in this situation. I can advise you—but the rest will be up to you. No one can make a person forget or change her attitude. She must do that for herself.

I suggest that you sit down with paper and pencil in hand. Then start to make a list of the good and bad qualities of this young man you have idealized to the point where all other young men seem pale by comparison.

Check the good against the bad qualities and see if he is as much of a hero as he now seems to be. Then do the same with your friendship with him. You indicate that he never does anything to show that you mean much to him, one way or another. Put down all the qualities of friendship and friendship behavior, then balance this against the qualities and behavior that do not show real friendship.

After you have looked at this problem in an objective, impersonal way, free from all romantic feelings, I guarantee that you will see this young man in a new light. This will help you to change your attitude toward him, so that you will be able to see other young men as they are, not in comparison with your first love.

Other invited guests were Mrs. Gertrude Graham, Mrs. Anne Heatherington, Mrs. Emma Hall, Mrs. Joan Stevenson, Mrs. Mary Druce, Mrs. Alice Butler, Mrs. Diane Kostenuk, Misses Ruth Graham, Darlene Heatherington and Allison Hall.

HERE IT IS: FAMED RECIPE FOR SOURDOUGH

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP) — Sourdough, in the best Yukon tradition, may grace milady's table if the bread strike, now in its sixth day, continues in Vancouver.

Mrs. George Black, who heard of the breadless plight of some Vancouver housewives, came to their assistance with her trail of "88 recipe."

"Add a little rice or macaroni water and a pinch of sugar to a thin batter of flour and water. Hang the mixture in a covered pail over a warm stove for four hours. Sourdough may be used to raise bread, pancakes and doughnuts. For pancakes use a pinch of soda."

"Even today," she said, "I can make sour dough hotcakes that will melt in your mouth."

Brother of the bride, Earle

Travelling up-Island on honeymoon, the bride wore an ensemble of navy and white linen, navy and white accessories and corsage of American Beauty roses.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson will live at 12107-95th Street, Edmonton, Alta.

DIOR PRESENTS NEW NECKLINE

NEW YORK (AP) — The dropped-shoulder silhouette and the "romantic" neckline are highlights of Christian Dior's New York collection for fall, previewed this week for the benefit of 150 visiting fashion editors representing newspapers throughout the United States and abroad.

Departing from his former custom of building the shape into the garment with stiffened interlinings, Dior depends principally on drape and cut for his new silhouette, which is soft, feminine, slim and unexaggerated.

Young Warns CCF Official Against Attacks on Him

VANCOUVER (CP) — Rod Young, who resigned from the CCF party Monday, said Thursday he will take action against the provincial secretary if "he continues to attack my character."

Mr. Young quit the party when he was suspended by the provincial executive after telling the CCF convention here June 11, "I'm proud to have people tell me I'm a Communist." He added that he was not a Communist.

His latest remarks in the month-old feud followed executive secretary Harold Thayer's announcement Wednesday that three new complaints had been filed against Mr. Young for "willfully misrepresenting the CCF through press statements."

"I am astounded that the provincial secretary appears to believe I am still a member of the CCF despite my public resignation," said the former member of parliament.

"It is a well-known fact," Mr. Young continued, "that no one is ever allowed to resign from the Communist party, but is always expelled and his character is always assassinated in the Communist-controlled press."

"But this has never been the procedure in a democratic socialist party where it is customary for resignations to be accepted automatically."

Police Wear Tunics During Empire Games

VANCOUVER (CP) — City police decided Thursday to abide by a police commission order that they wear their tunics during the British Empire Games—provided the commission rescinds the order immediately after the games.

Fred Dougherty, police union president, said if the commission rejects the condition, the matter will be taken to arbitration.

Japanese Arrested For Counterfeiting

TOKYO (UP) — Ten Japanese were arrested today on charges of counterfeiting United States $50 and $100 bills, some of which turned up in New York, according to police.

The counterfeiters, mainly artists and photographers, were accused of printing about 500 bogus bills since April, selling them at from 55 to 85 cents on the dollar. Because the bills were remarkably similar to counterfeits discovered last year on Cyprus Island, police suspected an international ring may be involved.

NEGRO SETTLEMENT

Wilberforce, founded in 1830, was the name of a former settlement of freed Negroes in Middlesex county, Ontario, near the village of Lucan.

The first printed Bible was produced in Gutenberg, Germany, in 1450-1456.

Two FOR THE Show

By PHIL LEE

AA—Odeon, Class. A—Don't Miss BB—Worthwhile. C—For a Rainy Afternoon. D—To Put in Time

(BB) "DRUMS ACROSS THE RIVER" (Odeon)—With its theme of don't blame an entire nation for the evil work of one man, "Drums Across the River" makes an excellent summer holiday treat for the junior members of the family. For there is plenty of suspense, brawling and gunplay to lend excitement to the "sermon."

For the adult members, however, the plot may be just a mite too trite. There are the "good guys" in the persons of Audie Murphy, his gal Lisa Gaye and his dad, Walter Brennan as opposed to the "bad guys" led by screen villain Lyle Bettger. The reason for the conflict between the two sides: Gold! But it is on the other side of the river which is Indian territory.

In the beginning the good elements of the western gold mining town are desperate to get at the gold on the other side of the river but are held back by a treaty in which the Indians promise to leave the whites alone so long as they stay on their own side of the stream. But Desperado Bettger and company urge them on and the lure of the yellow nuggets proves too strong.

In conclusion: This is an excellent show for the young and may even provide the occasional thrill for the oldersters who enjoy this type of film. But the average adult will find the plot too pat, too obvious and lacking in the necessary subtleties.

Second half of the Odeon's double bill is "Meet Mr. Lucifer," starring Stanley Holloway.

Victoria Symphony in Gay Mood For Butchart Gardens Concert

By AUDREY ST. D. JOHNSON

Hans Gruber explained his unprecedented wearing of a short-sleeved casual shirt at the Butchart Gardens Symphony concert Thursday night, by saying that he had "seen in the papers that the concert was informal!"

Second in the series of four weekly programs by the Victoria Symphony, it was not only informal, but also somewhat irregular, if one was to judge by the maestro's announcement of various items; for not only was a composition "without an end" played, but several minutes of "jazz" were indulged in, and a Rossini overture to "The Lone Ranger" (or "Heigh-Ho, Silver") was performed. The latter, however, sounded suspiciously like "William Tell" to this writer!

A balmy, tranquil evening, heady with the perfume of thousands of flowers, dramatized by the music and soft, skillful illumination, found an audience of approximately 2,300 in the famous Gardens. Ian Ross, owner-manager, and Mrs. Ross have made this second season of summer symphonies possible. To their generosity and hard work, and to those who assist in keeping the traffic flowing smoothly, much appreciation must go.

Sound last night was clear, completely free of fuzziness and distortion, and so well relayed that it was possible to enjoy the music while wandering happily in the rose garden, brooding poetically over the brink of the star pool, or relaxing in the Italian Garden.

Soloist on this occasion was assistant concertmistress, Corni McCartney, who, playing with the orchestra, contributed last night's highlight, the first movement of the Mozart Violin Concerto.

This was a really impressive performance on the part of Mrs. McCartney. The playing was not only clean and crisp, but had delicacy and grace, assurance and rhythmic strength. She has a sensitive, flexible bowing technique and exhibited a tour de force in the long, difficult cadenza with which the movement concludes. It was obvious that the audience found the performance all too short.

The soloist's first number was the effective Sarasate, "Gypsy Airs." This never quite "took fire," but nevertheless was well chosen for the occasion; a pleasing, technically accomplished performance, only marred by an error in the last bar.

Mrs. McCartney is leading at the first desk during this series of concerts, no mean task but one which she carries off very capably.

Mr. Gruber announced as the feature of next week's concert, Beethoven's "Pastoral" Symphony, which he said, "we all feel Beethoven simply must have written with Butchart Gardens in mind!"

Machinery Tax Regulations Draw Protest

Landlord to Pay On Tenant's Gear
A storm of protest over implementation of the equalized assessment act is developing throughout the province. Landlords and tenants alike are objecting to the methods and forms used by the government in preparing for inclusion of fixed machinery in 1955 assessment rolls.

Main objection stems from the fact that landlords, under terms of the act, are forced to pay taxes on machines and equipment owned by their tenants. Legally they have no access to this machinery, or its price and cost history, but they are still responsible for paying taxes on it. Another objection is raised by landlords who have let long-term leases to firms occupying their buildings. The tenant could refuse to pay the additional taxes raised on his machines, and the landlord could be stuck. Assessment commission officials said they have not experienced cases of this nature as yet. Actual collection of machinery taxes will not come for another year.

In a large plant, the cost to the landlord would be in the thousands of dollars, but there is no recourse to have taxes paid by the lease-holding tenant.

STOCK MARKET SUMMARIES

Papers, Steels Lead On Toronto Market

TORONTO (CP)—Stock market movements were irregular in light trading toward today's close. Industrials had a few more gains than losses with strength particularly in papers, steels and foods. Utilities, construction, liquors and financial institutions were lower.

Aircrafts Buck Pattern As N.Y. Markets Sag

NEW YORK (AP)—Aircrafts were all alone on the higher side of the stock market today while almost all other major divisions sagged. The decline went to between 2 and 4 points at the outside while gains extended up to between 1 and 3 points. Most changes either way, however, were small.

Montreal Turns Mixed After Strong Start

MONTREAL (CP)—A mixed tone ruled the stock market in moderately active trading today after slightly stronger tendencies had prevailed earlier in the session. Papers leaned forward while utilities and senior metals drifted into softer territory. Carriers and banks were mainly unchanged. The remainder of the industrial market showed a mixed pattern.

Dollar Stocks Gain In London Trading

LONDON (Reuters)—Shares on the London stock exchange were mixed today. Dollar stocks were stronger, in sympathy with the Wall Street advance. However, in response to the record production figures announced for May, Kaffirs and oils were full.

Mid-West Gas Drops On Vancouver Market

MID-WEST GAS dropped four cents to 1.86 during a quiet session of the Vancouver Stock Exchange this forenoon. Transactions totaled 7,100 shares. Noon quotation was 1.83-1.85.

New Uranium Rush Hits North Ontario

BY CANADIAN PRESS
The old mining rush days of the last century are being relived again by adventure-seeking Canadians going north to stake their claims in Canada's mineral bonanza.

But this time gold has been eclipsed by the search for uranium, the master agent for atomic weapon and peace-time atomic development.

A record for claim-staking in Ontario was set last year as 29,019 plots were staked out over the wide expanse of the province's north. In the first six months this year 27,055 claims have been registered.

Ontario department of mines officials won't guess what the total for the year will be, but they are certain last year's record will be surpassed.

Besides uranium, prospectors are searching for gold, silver, lead and other minerals. The largest stakings are in the Bancroft and Manitowadge areas.

Since Jan. 1, 14,000 claims have been staked in the Manitowadge district with another 6,000 in the Bancroft area. Other districts reporting heavy activity are Fort Frances, Kenora, Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie.

Most claims are for 40-acre plots, and the government collects a $5 fee for each claim. That represents $135,000 revenue from that source alone.

In addition, there are license fees and charges for transferring claims. A license permitting the staking of nine claims costs $5 and transferring charges are $2.

A total of 5,104 new mining licenses were issued in the first six months of the year and 6,145 renewed. This compares with 2,305 new licenses issued and 3,540 renewals to the end of June, 1953.

Many of the prospectors are just eager individuals who hope to strike it rich in the north. Others represent established mining companies. However, registrations do not indicate which is which.

Favorable Tide Conditions
Fix Flo's Swim Target Time

Target day for Florence Chadwick's attempt to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca has now been definitely set for August 9.

Florence Chadwick's Day

Hi! Just let Archie McKinnon get tough with me in my practise swims. Just let him. I'll really give him an earful.

If Archie accuses me of slowing down in a practise dip, I'll just say to him, "Listen here, hush-leaguer, who'd you ever strike out?"

Yep, I finally put one over on Arch at the ball park last night and don't think I won't rub it in.

Archie, Jack Todd, Fred Manning, Stu Keate and myself were guests at Athletic Park in British Empire Games Night.

They had a crazy, mixed-up ball game between the Victoria Tyee baseball team and the Victoria Shamrock lacrosse team.

Then we came on and Aber Doubleday must have spun in his grave.

Archie was on the mound, trying to throw fastballs to his catcher, Todd. Fred Manning (the blind Tom) was umpire, and "Shufflin' Stu Keate was in the outfield. Jack and Stu both forgot to bring their gloves so they used laundry baskets instead.

Archie wound up like a man with a spider down his back. He threw the ball. I shut my eyes and swung with all my might and darned if I didn't hit it. By the time Stu got the ball, I was standing on first base with a triple. But they all cheated and said that I was out for running to third base first, to second base second and to first base third.

I'll stick to swimming. There are no bases to touch in a channel.

KEEP CALM, COOL AND CUCUMBERS

Quigg's Quick Remedy For Hot-and-Bothered

(The writer of the following advice got tired of the usual rules on how to behave in hot weather and decided to put forward some new ones—just in case we get any summer, that is.)

By H. D. QUIGG
UP Staff Correspondent

How to beat the heat—10 easy steps you may want to think about.

1. Dress correctly. Wear a diaper. Mahatma Gandhi had the right idea. Any baby will tell you.

2. Work correctly. Knock off at noon. If your boss objects, gag him with your diaper.

3. Be calm. Anger begets heat. Calm breeds coolth. Consider the ways of the cool cucumber. Did you ever see a cucumber mad at anybody? No. Not even when pickled.

4. Be resourceful. Get your mind off the heat. Join a nudist camp.

5. Eat properly. Meat, cheese, and eggs produce heat. For that matter, so do fruits, vegetables, salads, licorice sticks and popcorn balls. So top eating. You're probably overweight anyway.

6. Drink properly. Get plenty to drink over long periods in a good bar. If you stay long enough, the air conditioning will solve your heat problem and the bartender will solve your others.

7. Be masterful. Brew a big pot of tea piping hot, wrap up in a blanket of hot water, and sip the tea while murmuring over and over: "Mind over matter, I don't feel a bit hot." Pretty soon you won't. You won't even feel.

8. Be clever. Buy an old Jenny airplane. Tie it down in an open field. Buy several 300-pound cakes of ice and stack them behind it. Start the propeller whirling, and take the family on a picnic in the cool breeze, which also discourages flying bugs and crawling beasts.

9. Are some liquids more thirst quenching than others? Yes.

10. Shut up. Talks creates heat. You talk too much anyway.

WHEAT PRICE OF $1.40 ANNOUNCED BY OTTAWA

OTTAWA (CP)—The government today set the initial price of wheat at $1.40 a bushel, the same as for the last three years.

Initial prices for oats and barley are also unchanged. Payment for oats will be 65 cents a bushel and for barley 95 cents a bushel.

The $1.40 wheat price is that for No. 1 northern at the Lakehead or Vancouver.

Initial payments for other grades of wheat, oats and barley will be announced by the Canadian Wheat Board after the start of the new crop year.

Red Demands Dampen Monday Peace Hopes

Mendes-France Seeks Help to Settle
Indo-China Cease-Fire By Deadline

LONDON (AP)—The Red China radio said today "an honorable peace acceptable to both sides is within sight" in Indo-China.

The Peiping broadcast was the most optimistic yet in Red China's description of state of negotiations at Geneva.

GENEVA (UP)—Prospects for an end to the Indo-China war by Monday nose-dived today because of Russia's unbudging stand on terms that fell far short of the West's hope of peace with honor.

Glinz Camp's 'Lost' Boy Turns Up

Slept Night
In Hollow Log

A hollow log was "home" to 10-year-old Charles Glinz, 3226 Orillia, near the YMCA's camp Thunderbird at Glinz Lake Thursday night.

And, while Charles slept peacefully, worried senior campers, camp director Clayton Cameron, RCMP constables and a trained RCMP search dog combed a wide area searching for him.

At 11:30 a.m., 40 South Vancouver Island Rangers were ready to start a controlled search for the boy.

But shortly after, he walked out of the logged-off, second-growth area where he had gone missing—heading straight for the cookhouse.

Charles was with a small party planning an overnight "sleep-out" about a half-mile from the main camp. Around dusk he was playing tag when he lost his sense of direction.

"I couldn't see the campfire or hear the other boys," he said. "I walked for awhile, then I got tired, and crawled into a hollow log and went to sleep."

A second camper, Ronald Gould, 12, of 2003 Cameron Street, also was found safe and sound this morning after going missing Thursday night. He camped out in his sleeping bag on a hillside close to the main camp.

10,000 French In Offensive To Save Hanoi

HANOI, Indo-China (Reuters)—Ten thousand French Union troops backed by tanks launched two drives north of Hanoi Thursday to push back Viet Minh regular troops which had infiltrated into the Red River delta and were menacing the city.

Heavy fighting took place and was continuing today, the French high command announced.

At the same time, delta commander Gen. Rene Cogny said 60,000 rebel troops had infiltrated his Hanoi-Haiphong sector and another 60,000 surrounded it.

Most other major Canadian cities have 10-cent fares, according to the BUP survey.

N.Z. Girl's Diary Describes Events Leading to Mother's Murder

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP)—A court was told today that 16-year-old Pauline Parker, accused with a girl friend of murdering her mother, had detailed the plans for the killing in her diary with the notation "we are both thrilled with the idea."

"Why couldn't mother die? Thousands are dying daily so why not mother?" the diary said, the court was told. A later entry noted: "Naturally we feel a trifle nervous but the pleasure of anticipation is very great."

The Parker girl and her close companion, Juliet Hulme, also 16, were ordered to be tried on a charge of murdering Mrs. Honora Mary Parker, Pauline's mother, who had been beaten to death in a park last June 22 with a brick wrapped in a lady's stocking.

Today's court session was a preliminary hearing in the magistrate's court at Christchurch. The two girls exchanged smiles and whispers during the hearing and scribbled on pieces of paper. The Hulme girl is the daughter of Dr. J. R. Hulme, wartime British director of naval operational research.

Witnesses described the girls wrote unpublished novels and as inseparable companions who operas together and who planned to go to the United States to have some of their works published.

Herbert Reiper, who told the court that he had lived as man and wife with the late Mrs. Parker for the last 23 years and was the father of her three children, said the parents of both girls had been worried by their intense friendship and sought to separate the two.

"The court was told that the Parker girl in her diary had listed her mother as 'one of the main obstacles in my path. Didn't she were to die ...' That en-

$750,000 Damage

Second Big Blaze Hits Royal City

City Centre Scarred; One Fireman Injured

NEW WESTMINSTER (CP)—A three-alarm fire today swept through the Army and Navy department store here, damaging four adjoining stores when walls crumbled and causing a loss estimated at $750,000.

One fireman was injured, and several others had narrow escapes as the fire-blackened walls of the Army and Navy store crashed and giant windows exploded into the street.

Damage to the Army and Navy building was estimated at $500,000. The other stores suffered loss of $250,000.

Fire chief Claude Highstead said the fire started on the top floor of the four-story Army and Navy store. From there it swept down an elevator shaft.

WALLS CRASH
A jewelry shop, cafe, dress shop and a meat market all were damaged when the walls of the store crashed.

Floors of a hardware store near the big department store were flooded.

Fireman Jack Fulton was trapped on the roof of the jewelry store, knocked down by flying bricks. He suffered ankle injuries.

Warned by fire captain Archie Mosdell, eight other firemen escaped the flying debris.

"If it hadn't been for Capt. Mosdell, we all would have been dead men," said fireman Norman Yule.

A warning from Chief Highstead saved R. C. Grant, owner of the jewelry store, and watches, jewelry and diamonds were spewed into the street and carried away in a flood of water.

The fire, starting at 3:30 a.m., raged for four hours, as scores of firemen and civilian defense workers battled to control the flames.

The fire was in the centre of the downtown area on Columbia Street, four blocks from the scene of a $1,000,000 fire May 6 which destroyed the Swan Wright Building containing eight firms and radio station CKNW.

Extra Police on Guard In Ont. Strike Violence

LONDON, Ont. (BUP)—Extra provincial police stood guard outside a London warehouse today to avoid more violence if the strikebound Kelvinator Company of Canada tries to move out $75,000 worth of tool dies.

The owner of two transports parked in the warehouse said the company had told him to try to get the dies out today.

Officials said it was necessary to take them to Windsor to have them revised for 1955 models.

The London township council wired Attorney-General Dana Porter for help Thursday night after 150 strikers stormed the warehouse and police fired 25 shots into the ground to stop them.

The wire said the township's nine-man force was "defeated." Fifteen provincial police officers were rushed to the scene. Forty other provincial officers in radio alert squad were "available within minutes" in case trouble developed.

The workers, members of the United Auto Workers (CIO), went on strike June 28 after 11 months of negotiating over a new contract.

Police estimated the strikers did $1,000 damage to the trucks Thursday.

HAMILTON, Ont. (BUP)—Two big Hamilton industries announced indefinite layoffs today that will swell the jobless in the Hamilton area to record high levels.

The National Steel Car Company announced its plant would close down "indefinitely" as soon as its present orders are completed, putting 1,000 persons out of work.

International Harvester announced that it would lay off 1,500 men after the Aug. 1 holiday, when overloaded stocks will force it to abandon operations indefinitely.

U.S. INVESTMENTS IN CANADA UP 72%

OTTAWA (BUP)—United States investments in Canada rose by more than $600,000,000 in 1953 and were the largest ever recorded, the Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported today.

The 1953 total of $8,600,000,000 compares with just under $5,000,000,000 at the end of 1945, making an increase of 72 per cent for the post-war period.

2 Crossworders Get Correct Solutions

Two Victoria women submitted correct solutions this week to the Times weekly crossword, but because of the rules their prize money is different.

Winners are: Mrs. R. Bigelow, 2147 Oak Bay Avenue, and Mrs. H. H. Poole, 1498 Fairfield.

The total prize was $25, plus a bonus of $150 for a regular subscriber.

The general prize is split $12.50 each to the two winners, but the bonus of $150 goes to Mrs. Bigelow who is a regular subscriber by carrier.

She receives a total of $162.50. Mrs. Poole, who buys the paper individually, but does not subscribe, receives $12.50.

Mrs. Bigelow was roused from bed this morning to be told she had won the prize. She had been to the zany ball game for BEG night. Her husband said he's ordering a box of choice cigars right away.

Mrs. Bigelow has been doing the puzzles from the start. In addition to her own paper she borrows puzzles from neighbor subscribers as well as buying extra ones so that she can submit several alternative entries each week.

Mrs. Poole was thrilled to have come up with a winning solution. She has also been doing the puzzles a long time, and it was unfortunate that the rules prevented her from sharing in the bonus.

The full solution to the puzzle with explanations is on page 21, along with the new puzzle, worth $75 to a regular subscriber.

'I WAS LUCKY', SHE SAID ... AND SHE WAS

HUNTSVILLE, Ont. (BUP)—A young Huntsville district housewife, who had never used a rifle before, killed a 300-pound bear in her backyard with one shot.

Mrs. William Hughes grabbed her husband's .303 rifle off the wall and fired from a distance of 60 feet.

Mrs. Hughes said, "It rolled over and died, luckily for me. I don't know how to reload the gun."

we have just completed our regular investigation."

Mr. George said the commission requires, if possible, a copy of briefs prior to the hearing; particulars of the officers, membership, and objects of organizations presenting briefs, and requires also that a properly authorized representative of the organization make actual presentation.

OTTAWA (CP)—The death sentence hanging over Pte. George Mitchell, 22, of Winnipeg, for stabbing a German widow to death was commuted today to life imprisonment.

The commutation was granted by Defense Minister Campbell. He has power to take such action under the National Defense Act.

Mitchell was convicted by a Canadian Army court martial in Germany of murdering Frau Elizabeth Seiling, about 56, at Iserlohn, Germany, Dec. 15, by stabbing her 10 times with a six-inch butcher knife.

Bomber Lands Safely After Hitting Jet

BOSTON (AP)—A U.S. Air Force B-29 bomber and a jet plane collided over Cape Cod today and the jet plunged into the water off Provincetown, Mass.

A Coast Guard boat was sent out to search for the jet while the B-29, with a wing damaged, flew to Boston and landed safely at Logan airport.

Temperatures in the 90s and 100s still covered most of the southern half of the country, with Little Rock, Ark., recording 107, Fort Worth, Tex., and Springfield, Mo., reported 102.

Showers and thunder-showers sprinkled the Rockies while heavier rains fell in the Atlantic coastal states.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Efforts of Mayor Fred Hume for a settlement of the bakers' strike have failed, he announced today.

The mediation talks have broken down, he said, and there is no immediate hope of settlement.

The workers, 450 in Vancouver and Nanaimo, went on strike eight days ago following a dispute over the 35-hour work week. The present contract calls for 38 hours.

Party Ousts De Gasperi As Leader

ROME (UP)—Former Premier Alcide De Gasperi was ousted tonight as head of the Christian Democratic Party and replaced by youthful Amintore Fanfani who served briefly as premier.

The governing party's national council gave the job to Fanfani by a vote of 59 to nothing, with 12 abstentions. De Gasperi was given the post of "party president," an honorary post with little influence.

The vote marked an end of the moderate De Gasperi era in Italian politics which started with the end of the Second World War and brought Italy into the western alliance.

Margaret's Tour To Be Debated

LONDON (Reuters)—Princess Margaret's visit this week to Germany will be raised in the House of Commons next Thursday.

Prime Minister Churchill will be asked which government department was responsible for the detailed arrangements of her tour, some aspects of which have been criticized in British newspapers as involving a member of the Royal Family in a political controversy.

Red Demands Dampen
Monday Peace Hopes

Mendes-France Seeks Help to Settle
Indo-China Cease-Fire By Deadline

LONDON (AP)—The Red China radio said today "an honorable peace acceptable to both sides is within sight" in Indo-China.

The Peiping broadcast was the most optimistic yet in Red China's description of state of negotiations at Geneva.

GENEVA (UP)—Prospects for an end to the Indo-China war by Monday nose-dived today because of Russia's unbending stand on terms that fell far short of the West's hope of peace with honor.

France called on Britain for help in breaking down the Soviet refusal to compromise.

Only four days remained before French Premier Mendes-France's deadline of a cease-fire or his resignation.

The Soviet price for peace was immediate surrender of two-thirds of a partitioned Viet Nam and almost certainly the loss of the entire war-ravaged country within six months.

The French remained hopeful, though Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov refused to give any ground in arguments with Mendes-France that lasted until the early hours this morning.

Mendes-France called in British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden to help in his last dramatic duels with the Reds for an acceptable settlement.

The two statesmen conferred privately to line up their own positions and then met Molotov at the British delegation villa.

Molotov, meanwhile, was reported to have consulted with Red Chinese Premier Chou En Lai to make the Communist position even firmer.

Favorable Tide Conditions
Fix Flo's Swim Target Time

Target day for Florence Chadwick's attempt to swim the Strait of Juan de Fuca for August 9.

On that day, at 5 a.m., Miss Chadwick will push off from the shores of Victoria to try to become the first person to swim the 18½ miles of frigid water between Victoria and Port Angeles.

Miss Chadwick and officials of British-America Paint Co. and the Victoria Daily Times, co-sponsors of the $10,000 swim, selected the date after a conference Thursday night.

MOST FAVORABLE

August 9 has been selected as the day most favorable from the aspect of tidal conditions. However, if bad weather prevents the swim that day the next most favorable day will be August 12. The early hour of the swim also is governed by tides.

Miss Chadwick spoke by long-distance telephone to her personal navigator, Frank Seehorn of San Pedro, Calif., Thursday. He plans to arrive in Victoria August 3 to examine both shore lines of the swim, rip-tides on the route and boat facilities. After his examination he will chart the course she will follow.

If possible the swim start will be made from the Dallas Road waterfront west of Clover Point, but this will depend on a final

'FELT VERY EXCITED AND NIGHT-BEFORE-CHRISTMASSY...'

N.Z. Girl's Diary Describes Events Leading to Mother's Murder

AUCKLAND, N.Z. (AP)—A court was told today that 16-year-old Pauline Parker, accused with a girl friend of murdering her mother, had detailed the plans for the killing in her diary with the notation "we are both thrilled with the idea."

"Why couldn't mother die? Thousands are dying daily so why not mother?" the diary said, the court was told. A later entry noted: "Naturally we feel a trifle nervous but the pleasure of anticipation is very great."

The Parker girl and her close companion, Juliet Hulme, also

Lost Lad Wanders Out

Forty South Vancouver Island Rangers teamed up with RCMP officers and a trained dog early today when word reached town that Charles Jury, 10 years old, of 3226 Orillia, was lost from YMCA's Camp Thunderbird at Glinz Lake. Charles, after spending the night asleep in a hollow log, walked out of the bush soon after the search started. He walked straight to the cookhouse. He said he'd become separated from a small party who planned an overnight sleep-out half a mile from the main camp. Another missing camper, Ronald Goud, 12, of 2003 Cameron, was found earlier after spending the night in his sleeping bag near the camp. (Times photo by Irving Strickland.)

190 Dead in U.S. Heat, Storms

CHICAGO (AP)—The death toll from heat and storms rose to 190 today as cool northerly winds routed the season's severest heat wave in most parts of the United States.

The cooler air extended from Kansas and Oklahoma eastward over Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky and Ohio to the north Atlantic coastal states. Daytime temperatures in that area Thursday were 10 to 25 degrees cooler than on the preceding day.

Temperatures in the 90s and 100s still covered most of the southern half of the country, with Little Rock, Ark., recording

PUC Invites Briefs
From Local Groups

The Public Utilities Commission today announced it will hold public hearings in Victoria and Vancouver this month into B.C. Electric applications for fare increases.

Chairman Percy E. George said the Victoria hearings would open at 10 a.m., July 29, in the Empress Hotel.

A second session will be held on July 30 if necessary.

Mr. George said briefs may be presented by organizations other than political parties which are definitely established and have public recognition as a representative body which is acting on behalf of its members as users of transit services.

Vancouver hearings will be held from July 28 to 27, and will continue on July 28 if necessary, in the Vancouver court house.

The company is seeking rate increases ranging up to 47 per cent, which, according to a British United Press survey, will give Victoria and Vancouver the highest fares in Canada.

The new rates asked by the BCE are up from 10 to 13 cents in Victoria, and from 13 to 15 cents in Vancouver.

Most other major Canadian cities have 10-cent fares, according to the BUP survey.

Mr. George said he wanted the public to know that a PUC investigation of the BCE's books, plant, and rate structure has just been completed by commission engineers and auditors.

"Many people are saying their books should be thrown open," said Mr. George. "I would like them to know that we have just completed our regular investigation."

Mr. George said the commission requires, if possible, a copy of briefs prior to the hearing; particulars of the officers, membership, and objects of organizations presenting briefs, and requires also that a properly authorized representative of the organization make actual presentation.

Two Victoria women submitted correct solutions this week to the Times weekly crossword, but because of the rules their prize money is different.

Winners are: Mrs. R. Bigelow, 2147 Oak Bay Avenue, and Mrs. H. H. Poole, 1498 Fairfield.

The total prize was $25, plus a bonus of $150 for a regular subscriber.

The general prize is split $12.50 each to the two winners, but the bonus of $150 goes to Mrs. Bigelow who is a regular subscriber by carrier.

She receives a total of $162.50. Mrs. Poole, who buys the paper individually, but does not subscribe, receives $12.50.

Mrs. Bigelow was roused from bed this morning to be told she had won the prize. She had been to the zany ball game for BEG night. Her husband said he's ordering a box of choice cigars right away.

Mrs. Bigelow has been doing the puzzles from the start. In addition to her own paper she borrows puzzles from neighbor subscribers as well as buying extra ones so that she can submit several alternative entries each week.

Mrs. Poole was thrilled to have come up with a winning solution. She has also been doing the puzzles a long time, and it was unfortunate that the rules prevented her from sharing in the bonus.

The full solution to the puzzle with explanations is on page 21, along with the new puzzle, worth $75 to a regular subscriber.

try was dated April 28.

Then on June 21, court was told, the girl's diary said: "We have decided to use a rock in a stocking rather than a sandbag. We discussed the molder fairly. The happy event is to take place tomorrow afternoon."

"The next time I write in my diary mother will be dead."

"How odd, yet how pleasing?" Then on June 22, the court was told, the entry read:

"Day of a happy event. Felt very excited and 'night-before-Christmas' last night. Didn't have pleasant dreams though."

The court was told that the Parker girl in her diary had listed her mother as "one of the main obstacles in my path. If she were to die..." That en-
